

56. A L . M NicoIas	458
.
57 President Edrrard Bene5 of Czechoslovakia	459
58. Sir Ronald Slorrs. N.V.C.. M.G .. C.R.E..	459
59. Col. Raja Jai Prithvi Bahadur Singh. Raja of 13ajang (Nepal)	460
.
60 Journal of the RoyaT Asiatic SocieZy of Great Britain and Ireland	462
.
61. Rt . Hon. M . R Jayakar. Privy Councillor. Londen	462
62. Prof. Benoy Kurnar Sarkar. M.A.. Ph.D.	463
63 . Mrs . Sarojinu Naidu	463
64. Jules Bois	463
65. The late Slr John Martin Harvey. D.Litt.	41il
.
6fi. Dr Hewlett Johnson. Dean of Canterbury	465
67 . Won . Arnold 5 .Toynbce. D.Litt.. Oxon	4 G
68. Sir A . Ramaawami Mudaliar. K.C.S.1.	465
..
89 B r Bhagavnn Das	466
.
70 . S. Eitrem. University of Oslo Norway	466
TI1. In Memoriam	469
Fannie Leech	469
Walter Olitzki	470
.....
Fanny A . Knobloch	473
Marta Brauns-Forel	476
Fred Mortensen	483
Haj Taha EbHarnamsi	486
Friedrich Schiveizer	487
John David Bosch	488
'Ali S a b m i

Orcella Rexford

Abu'l-Fetouh Battah

'Ali Said Eddin

.

..... 499

Mubarnmad-Taqi X~fahini

H a j l MahmQu Q a s ~ a b c h i.....

Beulah Storrs Lewis

Hasan Mar'i Tantiwi

Nuri'd-Din 'Abbiu

Julia Culver

..

..... 507

Mountfort Mills

George Om Latimer

Mani Mehta

Maulvi Muhammad 'Abdu'illh VaRn

P A R T THREE

I. BahL'i Diccto~y184&1@55.....

1. Bahi'i National Spiritual Assemblies

MEMORIAM

MRS. FANNIE L E X H

January 15, It%&-February 22, 1948

By the Sp4rituhrd A$setnblu of the Bahi'i'is of Chkago

Mrs. F ~ I Lesch

C came into the BahB'I Fgth m B96. When quite y m ~ she married a very promising young lawyer, Mr. Frank Collier. The couple had one son, Mr. John Colher. Later, belng widowed, she met through her

Bahá'í associates, Mr. George Lesch, whom she married in 1895. Mr. Lesch was the brother of Miss Mary Lesch, deceased, and Mrs. Rose C. Robinson of Chicago.

As her husband, Mr. George Lesch, was secretary of the Spiritual Assembly of Chicago from its inception it was known first as the Council Board, then the House of Justice, and later the House of Spirituality. Lesch made typewritten reports of the minutes of the meetings, which were sent to 'Abdu'l-Bahá and 'Akka, and copies were preserved in what became the nucleus of the Bahá'í Archives. These are priceless historic documents of the Faith, not only in Chicago, but in the Western World. She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

Fanny Eesch

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

She was the first to make typewritten copies of the minutes of those meetings, now called firesides, of Bahá'í meetings held at her home.

John Collier, April 23, 1949 at the Joint Assembly of the National Spiritual Assembly of the United States and Canada. . . .*

Mr. Albert Winans, a member of the Chicago Spiritual Assembly, was requested to conduct the service. Selections from the handful of programs, typical of many Words of Bahi'u'llih and 'Abdu'l-Bah, many appropriate to the occasion, were performed. Thousands of inquirers that were present

No note of sadness was sounded, and only drew to the high the spirit manifested by the assembled guests was one of rejoicing that our beloved sister had ascended to the mansions of the Most Glorious.

A Cablegram from our beloved Guardian, Walter Olitzki did only guests was one of rejoicing that our beloved sister had ascended to the mansions of the Most Glorious. Creative geniuses will dedicate their art to something that transcends time, Shoghi Effendi, was received, it: his voice was his contribution to which read: world peace.

"Deeply sympathizing with the loss of Walter Olitzki was born March 17, 1899, in Hamburg, Germany, and grew up in Berlin. Both his parents were Jewish, his father of Russian, his mother of Polish descent. Both his parents were well-known cantors

-- of orthodox congregations. An aunt,

Madame Rosa Olitzki, was a famous contralto and one of the Metropolitan WALTER OLITZKI Opera star.

In 1949 in Berlin. On December 14 of that year, he married his wife, whom he met when the two were scheduled for a joint recital, and with whom he in presenting a recital by had sung at the opera in Monte Carlo Walter Olitzki, .Opera and at the Jewish Kulturbund. In Baritone , , , , present Palo

Peninsula Bahai

Bahai Concert June, 1939, after seemingly endless racial and religious persecutions, the Olitzki, left for the United States' member of the Metropolitan Opera Company and San Francisco Opera Company

The Olitzkis reached New York City pany. ~t the piano. Ludwig Altman, with a total capital of two dollars. Lili offieid Organist of the sari pranciseo ~ U P P O N herself and her husband by symphony orchestre . " 7 1 "under the sew"&, working mrcn erghty hours a auspices of the public ~~~i~~~ corn- week. In September, a t the morning mittee of thr Nntionnl Spir~tualAs- Where they liwA, met

sembly the Bahhlf + , M T ~ Madelahe

~ Humbert, who told them of Bahh'is of Allentown request the honor Bahi'u'llgh. Walter knew no English of your presence . . ." "The Bahl" is oi and Lili only a little, but they under-Los Angeles present . . ." "The Bah$'is s h o d that * great, new Prophet had

of Berkeley, California, present . . ." come Who promised peace. and that "The San Francism BahA'i Assembly Hitler would not invade America as mrdially invites you and your was then generally feared.

friends... ." "The Annual Bahi'i Sou- On December 2, 1939, Walter made venir of New Jersey invites . . ." "The his debut at the Metropolitan Opera

."

Bahi'is of Syracuse present . . "Un- House as Beckmesser 1n "Die Meisterder the auspices of the BahP'is of singer." His success was immediate, Wal3hhgton, U.C. . . ." "Under the the critics being unanimws in their auspices of the National SpMtual nrrtairn, and O l ~ nDome., muaic editor of the New York Times, stating:

IN MEMORIAM

471

"in details of brrainezq, dlction. song.

Mr. Ol~tzkiproved himslcf an artist "

The couple. their way of life now changed, soon left for Caliionia where they spent the summer months studying Engl~sh. When they returned for Ihe nc.w Opera season In October. their f ~ s concern

t was to look up Madclaine

Humbert to learn more about the new Prophet. Through Madelatne they attended classes at the home of Mildred and Rafi Mottahedeh, Lili translating fur Walter, whose English w a s still undeveloped. What attracted him most to rlie Far& was, as Lili hns since written, "the friendliness . . . and the absence of discr~minetion to which we had been subjected for quch a long time and w h ~ c h had been the cause of so much suffering." In March 1941, although not yet a declared Bahá'í, Walter gave a recital at the New York Bahá'í Center.

That April the couple returned to California with a letter of introduction to Virginia Orbison, through whom they met many believers and attended the annual picnic held in Santa Paula. They found hospitality of the friends made these now your true home. The Faith of the happiest summers of their life, and the link to Freedom now laid the foundation of Walter's love for

'Abdu'l-Bahá and the Guardian. As Lili has written, "More intuitively than through studying, he felt the security for which Bahá'u'lláh has provided, the indivisibility of the Cause. . ." In September 1931, at the Penst of Mashíyyat teach others. The need is so great, the suffering so acute in the world can, seek to open the eyes of their Walter always carried with him, in his prayer book, the following letter in

In Los Angeles, the Olitzkis became declared Bahá'ís.

:

of welcome, sent them by the Guardian

--

1*11:

the Holy Scriptures. . ."

The Guardian added, in his own hand.

Haifa, May 4th, 1942 " ~ the Spirit that guides and animates

"Dear Bahá'í friends. . . mates these Faith be your shield and guide, and enable you to deepen your

Your most welcome letter of April understanding of its essential verities

It was received by the Guardian, and to proclaim far and wide its life he has insisted to answer you ~ your principles. Your true brother, on his behalf.

He welcomes you into QL-4.:

o"u6"L.

rr

Walter Olitzki

in the days to come. You have

God--and this is why you are so much happier than before. The Guardian hopes you will. I x guide other souls to It, who, like yourselves, have suffered and are seeking the Light. He advised you to both study the Teachings and teach others. The need is so great, the suffering so acute in the world

In Los Angeles, the Olitzkis became today, that the Bahá'ís cannot be still, but must, in every way they can, seek to open the eyes of their fellow-men. He sends you his loving greetings, and you will remember you the world-wide Faith of Bahá'í.

and assures you that he will Walter Olitzki remained with the Youth League of the Baha'i Faith for you both that you may reach the top of the Mountain of Truth. His Cause many valuable services, also singing with the San Francisco Baha'i Community Choir.

THE BAHÁ'Í WORLD

co Opera Company and that day these institutions overnight. he would Antonic, and appearing with Ule never be permitted to travel in any 04

Charles Wagner Opera Production of the white colleges of the South.

Walter

"La Bohème." He was best known in answered "That's too bad for them."

the United States for his portrayal of He loved Negro Spirituals and always

Beckmesser in "Die Meistersinger," included them on his programs.

Crib

Alberich in "Der Ring des Nibelungen," praised the rare simplicity of man and Klingsor in "Parsifal." In addition to the inner and purity of feeling of these renditions he had mastered about one hundred productions.

and fifty operatic roles of the Italian. In addition to traveling, teaching,

French and Russian repertoire, and had and contributing freely of his voice, appeared in these at the Municipal Opera House in Komingsberg, East Prussia, and the Berlin State Opera. He also scored successes for his original York Regional, New York Bahá'í European library and Bahá'í Feasts, and interpretation of F U C ~ Modernists 88 Melic Cornitteri. On this last com-

Richard Strauss, Alban Berg, Hindemith and Kreneck He had appeared in Europe

Europe

in Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier" and Berg's "Wozzeck" in performances over a period of years.

at conducted by the composers themselves. He sang at the Bahá'í House of Worship for

the Convention of 1988. He regarded

this

Besides his operatic work, Walter evening as the highlight of his life. It

Olitzki sang in numerous recitals, oratorios took place during his last, happy year

torious and radb performances In the on earth, a year when, Lili said after-United States and Europe. A crit- ward, all his dreams were realized. ic wnte, "The qushv of voice is never Oli, as his intimates called him, wes hard, always meIodious, with a r a r e ternpermmtal: before singing that richness." night, he m l d speak t~ no one except From the day he accept4 the Faith, Lili. As h e paced the corridor outside Walter gave the Neanage wherever he the auditorium, he p e s t u d to Lili. She went. Whether he was singing to the conferred wfth him and then relayed hundreds of gersons he attracted to bls request to the speaker of the eve-Green Aore, Maine, Bahh'f School; o r ning: He desire$ the speaker to inin Harlem. at a BahV1-sponsored bene- clude some element from the Biblical fit for the United Negro College Fund; song he was about to sing. The followor a t the New York T ~ m e sHall for a ing line was accordingly incorpomted Bahb'l Pence Meeting; o r at the Bahi'i- i n k the t a l k "This is the generation sponsored Wcodrow Wilson Anniver- of them that seek the Lord."
 sary Program; or in Chicago a t the The last time Walter sang at
 the great Bahi'i Centenary Banquet, or to a Opera House in San Francism
 - as large public audience a t the Bahi'i Beckmesser in "Die Meistersinger"
 -
 House of Worship itseU4is purpose seventeen of hIs Bahi'i friends were in was always the same: to further the the capacity audience. The last time oneness of mankmd. he sang for the BahL'ls was on
 the Everyone knew he was a BahP'f. He Birthday of BahB'u'lIBR a t the Los Anwrote about the Causc to all his friends geles Bahh'l Center in 1948. On this
 -in Sweden, Holland, Emland, Pales- occasion he sang the prayer, admirtine. Traveling throughout the United ably set to music, at Walter's request, States on concert taws, h e invariably by Charles Wolcott: "From the sweet met the Baha'is and spoke and sang for give them. On a tour through the South, he stayed overnight on the campuses of all a

 the Negro Colleges which he visited,
 was and in each one t a h t the Faith. When destroyed.
 he returned home h ~ sagent assured greatly him that because he had remained in ~ncreasrd, and thoge d n were close ta hi recognized his ever-dwening love later explained, "came one broufit up for God and man, and his great long- in the Mulpmmadan Faith %nd reing to serve both. He died in Los An- vealed this jewel of wlsdom conceall-i: g ~ l r s8 t the Cedars of Lebanon EIospi- in the parable of wr New Teshment." tal, August 2, 1949. From that time she attended the

BahPl

Althugh Walter Olitaki'n Bahk'I I& meetings, eager for more light, and on earth was wlativeFy brief, he rose finally became a Bahh'i after two years through his own merit to national prom- of struggle. Eventually their entire ~nenceas a servant of the Faith, and family became ardent BahB'ls. in these still.early years of the Faith in So brilliant was the flame ignited the United States, his dedication of his within Mks Fanny by the Teachings, voice to Baha'i communities was a par- that she made it possible, out of her ticularly valuable gift. He seemed own earnings, to send her sister, Alma, much younger than his age; as an a r b to Germany as a pioneer in 19W nnd t o ist he had not yet reached his prime. help her remain there until 192W, firmly
 His fellow-Bahh'is who laved him can establishing the Faith in that country. only compensate their loss in redoubled (See The Bah6'i WorM, Vol VII) She service to the Cause h e loved s o well, herself, traveled to Southernmost Africa

remembering that while the singer is as a pioneer, bringlng the light to thst gone, the song remains. f at-off country !

h 1908 the three Knobloch slstets and Joseph Hannen (Pauline's husband) received permission from 'Abu'l-FANNY A. F3TOBLOCH Bahfi to make a never-bbe-forgotten pilgrimage to the pnsion city of 'Akkh.

-

1859 1949 Bccauso d the death of their belwed BY V m h 1- Twnm mother, Mrs. Amalie Knobloch, it was Miss Fanny A. Knobloch was born decided that Fanny should go first, acin Bautzen, Saxony, Germany on J k companied by Mrs. Ida Finch, a Bahl*i e m b e r 22, 3859. irom Seattle, Wash~ngto~l. These two

She received the Bahá'í message from Mirza Abu'l-Fadl in Washington, D. C., and through her sister, Mrs. Pauline Hannen, accepted the teaching and then Alexandria. There in 1934, after having attended various classes for two years.

On the wharf was a multitude of faces uplifted to the ardent Christian. Her married sister, Mrs. Hannen, with her two boys, at these faces, Miss Alma said, "No one would come to visit Miss Fannie's home twice the man almost in the middle of every Sunday afternoon and would display a green scarf around the various ships. Previously, she had been a constant conversation dealing with religion became quite trying to Miss Fannie, and she remarked to her sister and when they landed to discuss anything but religion. The Great turning point came when one day Pauline, returning from a Bahá'í meeting, tone, repeating it several times. Joy gave Mirza Abu'l-Fadl's explanation of it, but in an equal measure of the loaves and fishes, for in those days It was for it was so different from the very dangerous to be known as a given by the members of Miss Fannie's Bahá'í Bible class, many of whom were re-brothers. Among these four Oriental tired ministers who had come to meet the steamer Bible for many years. "Yet here," she was Prince Urbsin. A visit was

I made to the home of Muhammad Yazdi, the brother of Mad Yazdi of Port Said where, a meeting was held, first with the women on the steamship. From these Bahá'ís the three pilgrims carried a supplication to 'Abdu'l-Bahá that He would visit Egypt with Him. At that time no one thought He would ever be outside the prison walls of Akko. When they delivered the message to 'Abu'l-Bahá, He said, "Inshá'Alláh," meaning "God willing," and true enough, He did bless Egypt with His presence not long after His liberation.

In describing Haifa, Miss Fanny wrote, "In our small hotel, we occupied a second story front room, one door of which opened on to a small balcony. That night the glorious rays of a full moon revealed the white crested waves of the sea, rolling upon the sands of the Valley of Achor. The minaret of the mosque gleamed white above the walls of the prison city. In the distance was Mt. Carmel, illumined, while close at hand great rows of tall palms cast weird shadows upon the road."

Fanny A. Knobloch

She spoke of her great happiness in BahP'u'Uhh." Following are His words:

meeting Munirib K-hhnum, the wife of 'AWu'l-BahA, who told her on one occasion that personal nearness to the distinguished

"Very, We have elevated thee to the rank of one of the most arranged thy sex, and granted thee, in Manifestation of God does not in itself imply a high spiritual station, for Jesus had sisters and brothers and there is My court, a station such as none other woman hath surpassed.

Thus

no mention of them; that His Holiness, Baha'u'llih, had a brother who was far from God; likewise 'Abdu'l-Bahb had a brother who became an enemy below."

have We preferred thee and raised thee above the rest, as a sign of grace from Kim who bore the Lord of the throne on high and earth

Only one who had visited 'Akbar of the Faith.

What joy to meet Shoghi Effendi during the days of 'Abdu'l-Eahb could un- (later to become Guardian of the Faith) and his little sister, and Him. For nine days the three pilgrims experienced a happiness beyond ex-

Bahiyih Kabanum, the Greatest Holy Leaf, as well as the other members present because of their close contact Him. When they were leaving, He

of the Holy Household. Of Bahiyih with Khnum, she wrote, "A strange and said to them, "You are not weeping? unbecomingly feeling possessed me while in the presence of Bahiyih Kabanum, Miss Fannie replied, "No, we have received so many blessings and are eager be described as a feeling of awe, to go out and share them with all who feeling very unfamiliar to me. However, later, I realized that I had been are ready to listen."

Do not weep! Many friends weep because they wish to remain longer."

in the presence of the greatest. the N d d i n g His blessed head, 'Abdu'lmost holy woman in the history of the Bahb replied, "The general does not world-the Greatest HoIy Leaf! the I w e most the man in the back of the daughter of the Manifestation of God, ranks. He loves most the man in front.

IN MEMORIAM

If you but knew t h e value of these gart, Germany, to recover her health days, you would not cat, you wouFd and at the same time to assist Miss not sleep, you would not walk. You Alma in her work in that country and would mn and give to all the Qlad in Switzerland. While there, she re-Trd~nga!" ce~veda telegram inviting her ta Pans

After leaving 'Akkb, t h e three t r a w a s the guest of 'Abdu'l-Bahb. In Paris.

lers went t n Cairo, Egypt, to see once she, in company w ~ t hMadam Holbach more their beloved teacher, Mirth of Br~ttany. Mrs. Beedp nnd Mndnm Abu'l-Fad], then living in that clby. Blumenthal of New York, attended Upon them departurc, he gave ta Miss the meetings wherever 'Abdu'l-Bahi Fannie his most precious possession, spoke, In clubs, in large salons, In the his prayer bends, saytng tn hcr, "My homes of those interested, and else-Lord gave them to me." where. She mentioned one particular Their steamer t h a took them evening when 'Abdu'l-BahB addressed Marscillex. From there they sped on a group of some eighty pmp. Monta Z u r ~ c h , Switzerland, an$ then to sleur Hippolyte Dreyfus a d d as in-Stuttgart, Germany, where Miss Alma terpreter for the Frnch people, and had labored for two years and contin- 'Abdu'l-BahA, upon the conclusion of ued for y e t another twelve, serving His address, unexpectedly called upm the Cause of Bahi'u'llhh. The two sis- Miss Beatrice Irwin l a young lady ters addressed a large m t i n g , bring- pwsent) to repeat His address in Engto the German friends 'Abdu'l- l ~ s hfor the benefit of the American BahiYs message nf love. friends. The immediate obedience of

After several days Miss Fannie then Miss Irwin, although she was startled, hastened to Paris, according to 'Ab was indeed beautiful t o behold! du'l-Bahi's wish, then to London, to In 1923, Miss Fanny, dauntleas and convey His greetings, and back again full of hope, went to Capetom, %uth to America, after an absence of three Africa, to carry the light of BahB'u'llAh months. to that countr~r. From Capetoran, she Upon her return to America, she traveled to Kirnberley, Johannesburg, shared her exgerimces with the friends Pretoria and other parts of South Aiin Washington, Baltimore and New rica, bringing the m e s s a e of broth-York, always working for the estab- e r h d and peace. F o r three years she lishment of the Faith. When 'Abdu'l- worked steadfastly for the promotion

Bahh camc to America in 1912, Fanny of the Faith, giving many talks at tea8 and her sister Pauline and husband and large public gatherings, enkindling were invited to Dublin, New H a m p m a n y souls with the fire of the Teachshire as HIS guests. rmhiIe there they ings.

met Mrs. E. Hoagg end Mrs. Kline of In 1926 it was necessary for her to California, who had come fox the privi- come back to America because of ill lege of W i g near 'Abdu'I-Bahh. The health, but in 192.928,at the age of sixtylast morning of their stay, 'Abdu'l- elght, she found the courage ta return Bahh, speaking to George Latimer and to Airica, where she rcmained an adgrnciously including Miss Fanny and dit~onaltwo years. Thus she was able her sister Mrs. Hannen, said, "I will to give a fresh impetus t o the Faith, reveal a prayer which you shall use encourage the groups already estabwherever you go." That proycr la now 11shed and awakon many more people known as the "Peaycr of the Cove- ta the fact that a New Day had dawnnant."

ed. She worked tirelessly and devoted-

The two sisters werc blessed with ly, ever having in mind the words of thc privilege of bid din^ ioreweII to 'Abdu'l-BahA a t their parting in ' A M : 'Abdu'l-BahB aboard the steamer upon "IF you but knew the value of these

His departure from America. Other days, you would not eat, you would Rahl'ie were there, t o o , and as &cy not sleep, y o u would not wnlr.

You

waved goodbye to their Beloved, many would run and e v e to all the Glad eyes were wet with tears. Tidings!"

In 1913 Miss Fanny returned to Stuti- In later years, Miss Knobloch lived 476 THE BAHAI'F W O R L D

. -- her

with .. .

-- nenhew. Carl Hannen. in Wflrnette, Illinois, I; sight of the b e a u t i l

MARTA BRAUNS-FOREL

Zum 18, August 1948

BahB'i House of Worship, which was always an inspiration to her. Carl's wife, Minneola, gave her much lwing care. To the last, Miss Fanny was ever B A H A ' U Z t A H sprichb: „Mein erster praying for an 0 p ~ f l ~ i to W render Rat ist: besitee an gutes, tin wines, humble service t o the Cause. "W -,ineleuchtetes Herz, damlt du das spjrit is eager," she would say. "but Kiinigreich, das ewig, unsterblich und the physical, body Is weak."

ohne Ende ist, besiben m6gest!-0

When X visited her at the nursing ~ ~ u n d , Herz ist der Sitz des

dein

home on her eighty-ninth birthday, she ewigen Geheimmsses, rnache es d c h t said, among otha things, "if You zum G d i s sterblicher Gedanken und thanked God on your knees w e r g vergeude den Sfhatz delnes kostbaren m a k i n g hour of Your Jif@, You mid Lebens nicht! Du gehorgt der WeFt der never thank Him enough \ ~ v i n g Heiligkeit zu, hafte nicht an dern allowed you to live a t this t h e . And Stnube! DU bist ein B m h n e r des Aofes

again, "Now when the pa? fn mY der Nihe, erwihle keine irdiache Wohn. back becomes severe, I say I t is mLY unp! - ~ g t dm Wanderer die H6hen for a little while, and then I shall leave dicger Erkermtnis erstiegen, so mag er this b* and me our Lord d , ~ ~ a dml wahren Armut und den face. So will you and all Your famib, &Uigen vergehens beketen. Dies kt and all these earls believers. It is won- die Stufe, auf ~ c l c h e das r Ich stirbt und derful, isn't it?" msterblich in Gott, arm aus slch selbst
She held mY left hand and ~ n ddurch den Ersehnten reich wird.
did not h,mthat I Was writing down We, dlse Stufe erreicht hat, ist fiber with W right hand what she said. alles, was in der Welt fst, gehqgt, her sight was almost gone. W m darum die, welche m diesem Her release came on December 9. Meere der Vereini~ung hingefund~n, 1949. A little less than ninety years nichts "on den vergSnglichen old at the time of her Pas&% she D i n ~ e nin dieaer derblichen Welt, sei was the ftwt born of the three f k s - .s su;usseres ~ u dt e r eigene hluleinung LOUS US Knobloch sisters, Fanny, Alma besitzen, so 1st &rim kein Harm, denn and Pauline; the last Pass away- immer der Mensch auch besitzt.
Funeral services were held in wash- ist begrenat durch seine eigene Begrenington, D.C. Her m y was be- mng, doch was Gottes Ist, ist dariiber side her sisters, as well a5 Pauline's geheiligt, wmn du diese stufeerrei&t husband, Joseph Hamen, and their b* hast, wirst du dm Freund schauen und loved mother, Mrs. malie Knobloch. alles andrre vergessen. Dann hast du It was upon the death of her mother deines U b m a Tropfen geopiirt und Mrs. h a l i e mobloch, that 'hbdu'l- das Meer Gottea gewomen. Das ist das Bahk had written are those Ziel, naeh dem du gefragt hast. hliiehte
souls who visit thy luminous resting ~ , , t t dir zu ihm gelangen.

place, and through thy commemora- we= 3n dm Hirnmel der Einheit ernpor-Uon receive and acquire spiritual Pow- ,teigt und zu dem Meer- der Vergeistiers." gung hidand, dem ward die Stufe dea

At the time of Mi136F a m ' 3 ~as3inLZ , the Guadian cabled:

-

Lebens In Gott m m let- Ziel ffir die mit Wissen begabten m d zum blei.
"Grlwe passing dearly beloved di-

-

benden Heim fir dle, welche lieben. tinguished exemplarg pioneer Faith Su verbleibe denn ls deiner Liebe zu Fanny Knobloch. Memmy her n e Mir, damit du Mich i m Reiche des table services imperishable, her re- Lichta findest" ward Abhi Kingdom bmntitul, a* Liebe Freunde, wir sind hier, urn surcd, cvcrlaating." Abschled zu nehmen von einem gellebten, von einem fiebenden Menschen,

- den Gott die Stufe zu Seiner Ebene hat liberschreiten lassen. Dieset geliebte

IN MEMORIAM

479 innerhalb des Geiatigen Rates h- Krsft gegeben. und legte rnit einem Hinweis auf die Eine A u f m u n g ihrer Tatigkeiten

Bedeutung einen Kranz nieder, der oua innerhalb der offentlichen Feier w i r e Blumen ihres HBude-Grunstilckm in ihrem Wunachc entgegengewesen. Dur-Ettlingen gewunden war. Mach Herrn urn sei eine kurze Zusammenfassung Wcber legte Umel Kohler aus Stuttgart ~ h r e sLebens hler angefiigt. eirren Heidekranz nieder, den die Am 23. September 1888 in Ziirlch als

Freunde aui dcr Baha'iSommerschule Tochter d ~ damnlieen 4 C h ~ l s r 7 t r adm in Esslingen gewunden hatten. Als Irrenanstalt Burghiihlzli, des Psychiaters Leiter des Kreises der Kronacher- Prof. Dr. Auguste Forel ~eboren, Freunde legte Herr Dr. NBldecke einen wuchs sie im Kreise von £ h i Geschwi-Krarv. aieder, der aus Blumen der stern vm der besonderen Liebe ihrer Garten aller Freunde des Kreises Mutter, Emma Forel, geb. Steinhed, gewunden war. Und im Auftrage des umsorgi, in der dewtschsprachigen und Aufsichtsrates der Gartenstadt sprach spzter in der franssischen Schweiz auf.

Herr Hills die Griisse der Gartenstadt Die Umwelt ihrer Jugend prigte ihr aus. I n besonderen erwshihrtte er, wie Wesen: Die Verbundenheit rnit den Marta Brauns in $en Ki-icgsjahcen die Bergen, d ~ sie e als Sehnsucht f i r ganzes ppfegelm gewcrdenen Vorgartea der Ceben hindurch begleitete, die gliihende Sledlung in ihre Betrewung genommen Freiheitsliebe und die Selbstverstiindd hatte und dass sie am 23. Mai 1948 in der Kirche des übernatürlichen Gedenkens (einem Bahá'í-Feiertage:) zum Mitglied Weltbürgers, das waren die Erbennlagen des Aufsichtsrates und der Prägung ihrer Heimat. Untrennbar verbunden ausschusses gewählt worden war als solche mit ihnen die Grundtöne ihres erste Frau in der Geschichte der Gärten: Die Grundanschauung, dass tenstadt. Leben Arbeit bedeutet, die fanatische

Umrahmt von 2 Liedern des Kronen-Wahrheitsliebe und die Klarheit des einer Singkreises klang die Feier mit Denkmälern. Diese Erziehungsprinzipien dem Musikstück aus, was die Tote am vereinigtens zusammen mit dem Erbteil der ~11~11z1eibleit paliebl iwllt: de ~

Badnrnit: Mutter: Der alles umfassenden Liebe

„Mein glühendes Herz, frohlocke, sing, und der angeborenen Güte. scherze“, gespielt von FIGte, Violine Als sie S e h e t i r i n ihres Vaters h und Cello.

Yvonne war, lernte sie ihren Mann ken-

Nach Beendigung der Feier wurden den damaligen Medizinstudenten der Sarg von sechs der Freunden, unter Artur Brauns, der als Stuaifenfreund ihnen ihrem Sohn Sven, und für ihren ältesten Bruder Eduard seine Schwiegersohn herausgetragen. Auf dem Frieren dort verlegt. Mit diesem Mann - Bahá'í in dem von ihr selbst aus - men gründete sie die eigene Familie, gewählten Ruheplatz in Hohenwetters. zunächst in München.

bach beglückte sie außer ihren Kindern - W a r e n d sie mit *en vier Kindern

ern nur die stillen nächsten Freunde. bei ihren Eltern in der Schweiz die vier Nachdem an dem östlichen Grab das Jahr des ersten Weltkrieges war-Totengebet gesprochen war, schaufelten brachte, war ihr Mann als Militärarzt die Angehörigen und Freunde das an der deutschen Ostfront. Unter Grab selbst zu. Als der Grabhügel diesem Zwiespalt zwischen Deutsch mit den Kränzen und Blumen bedeckt und Schweizer Empfinden, mischen war, nahmen die Freunde mit cin - f i i e y und Frieden, hat sie in jenen em Gebet von der Toten Abschied. Jahren viel gelitten, und es reifte in Auf ihrer Grabplatte werden die Worte jenen Söhnen zugleich der Entschluss Bahá'í stehen: „Du bist mein wo immer es nötiglich war, für den Licht, und Mein Licht wird niemals Fäden m arbeiten.

vergehen. Warum fürchtest du sein Er- 1919 liess sich ihr Yann als praktischen? So verbleibe denn in deiner tischen Arzt und Psychiater in K a r b Liebe zu mir, clantit du Mich in meine Ruhe nieder. In der noch im Entstehen

des Lichts Andent“. Diese Worte hatten begriffenen Gartenstadt4iedl~ngfand der Verstorbenen in den schweren die junge Arztfamilie eine gefesteter-Kriegsjahren am meisten T m t and wandte Umgebung vor, die ihr bald m r
482 THE BAHÁ'Í WORLD

member of the National Spiritual As- the young girls, she herself served the sembly of Germany. She was active in officers at the Casino. One can only the fight of the Guttempler Association m e s s at the self-control such functions:

against alcohol; she cooperated with imposed on this French-speaking Swiss; the Esperantists; she served in the who had constituted herself the guard- "Women's League for Peace and Free- ian of the German populace, and whose dom"; she was an indispensable cw main task in life had been the fight worker of the Kmnach friends in their against alcohol.

promotion of a garden-city. To this The direst sorrow of Marta Brauns' was added actual work on the garden life was when she was not allowed a and estate of her husband in Ettlingen, permit to go to the bedside of her dying and she met these demands as if gar- mother in 1946.

dening were her real vocation. In addi- After her r e t m to Karlsruhe in the

tion, many patients of h e r husband late summer of 1945, she tried t o contranferred their confidence to her and centrate all her powers, beyond her came for advice, and the correspond- home, garden and social duties, on a c ence which she carried on with all tivitles for the BahB'i Faith. The r e parts of the world would in itself have newal of the Bahb'l group in Karlsruhe been enough ta keep one person busy. was due ta her initmtwe. From this With d l this she was an exemplary group the Bahi'l community arose in mother to her five children. the spring of 1941. As a member of the

The years from 1931 to 1939 were a National Spiritual Assembly, re-elected high point in the life of Marta Brauns, In 1948 following the eight-year suspenfor during this period her mother I~ved sion of BahA'i activity, and as a delewith her in Karlsruhe. Anyone who was gate to the National Convention, she fortunate enough to be a guest in the was an inspiration to all the Bahh'fs of Brauns household at that time never Germany, while her correspondence forgot its atmosphere of happiness and with friends in Palestine, Persia, 'Iriq, self-sacrilicing love. The separation Africa, Argentina, the United States, from her mother, brought about by the Canada, England, Holland and Switzer- Second World War, added to many new land, made her known to Bahh'is sorrows, not the least of which was an throughout the world.

ever more torturing homesidoleless. Marta's death was sudden; as her Marta suffered from the many injus- son-in-law commented in his address trces of the Third Reich and the gen- at the funeral, held August 18, 1948. eral loss of freedom. The isolation of in the memorial hall of the Diaconirs Germany from the rest d the world, Hospltal at Riippurr, there WAS no the p e r m t i o n of the Jews, the pro- glace m her crowded life for a lin~ingerscription of the Bahi'i mmmunity - ing and meditative old age. Many all these caused her much anguish. people gathered on that solernn occa- The war demanded further sacrifices $]on to pay their last respects. The from her. In 1942, her youngest son Bahh'i Assembly of Karlsruhe, the Es- Jurg fell on the Eastern Front. The slingen Bahh'i School, her Konach fortitude with which she bore the loss friends, the Board of the garden-c~ty of this son who was really the closest there (of which Board Marta had retro her showed her deeply religious nature. The serious war injury of her member), were represented. Nine eldest son Wolf was a new calamity. candles, emblems of the nine lights of In 1945 when the wife of this son, the Bahi'i unity, burned at the head of the beloved Anne, died suddenly, it was lavishly beflowered d i n .

Marta who sustained him.

These words from the funeral ad-

At the end of the war the French drew, which was accompanied by apoccupied the village of Hiidingen on grogri&t.e Bahi'i prayers and readings.

Lake Constance, to which Marta and summed up her life:

her daughter had been evacuated. Dur- "At a time when gacficists were ing the occupation she acted both as sneered at, she fought valiantly for interpreter an& med~ator. To protect peace. Disregarding the compassionak smile of the intellectuals, she spent you to have the funeral prweed quietthe days of h e r advanced years learn- ly with only you p r e m t . I would like ing an international auxiliary langu- you so mu& to do what I have done age. Nmost fanatically, she challenged after your father's paasing: no mournthe moral degeneration of her t ~ m e s , ing, no wearing of black; rather being in a place where a l m l and its a+ joyful and preserving the g o d and tendant practices were considered edu- the positive, the spiritual heritage d cational factors. She matched t h ~ crm- my uarents and of your father. You quests of science with the conquests needn't forget my def~ciencics and of religion. She fought for the triumph weaknesses, though they shouldn't enof her religion when the nuthorities tirely hide the positive. The best we imaged they could destroy her spirib have glven you is the Bahb'f teaching. ual treasure by conf~scatingher books. I needn't say more. It contains wery- She suffered like a mother with all t h ~ n gthat I would want to tell you."

IN MEMORIAM

the victims of racial and religious p m judlce; she tried to shield them; if one, fearing to wmpromlse himself, t m e d away h m her, he found her heart stl11 open to him when he came back again for help. If she knew that someone was withdrawing from her out of Fred Mortensen's youth was turbucoldness o r jealousy, she prayed for lent.

FRED MORTENSEN]

His environment was not of the him, seelung a way of reconciliation best, and he played with b y s grown until she found it. She demonstrated hard and ruthless. Determined to be the prncipfe of woman's equal~tywith their match, he broke the law whenever man by her own life. She had her rp h e had a chance. Inwardly he felt guilnowned father's incorruptible mtellect, ty, but he wanted to be Itke the others her mother's Ioving heart, a sense of and went on from bad to worse.

responsiblty and determination equal- Strange, that his very mnflict with the ing that of her departed husband. Inw shmlrl hnve g i v ~ nhim the nppor-

Wherever she came, she brought with tunity which led him to embrace the her the dear, bright mountain air of Baha'i Faith, and completely changed her native Switzerland, changing the course of his Me. languid and the weak, perhaps, but The second of his early days and refreshing the strong. Her whole life his first contact with the Faith, and was a restless struggle truly to become especially of his memorable experience Bahi'i-"a bearer of Light." Hence when 'Abdu'l-Bahá visited the For her children, Marta Brauns- United States in 1912 is given with feelings Forel wrote out her last wishes in a loving and sincerity by Fred Mortensen warm, human testament: himself in an article entitled: "When "You know that I have a great love for a Soul and the Master." This article is devoted to visiting cemeteries. For that was published in the March, 1924 issue of the reason I have long decided that I would of Star of the West. In it he writes: like to be interred in the small cemetery "My dear mother had done everything of Hohenwettecsbach, at some thing in her power to make me a good small, hidden place and without the boy. I have but the deepest love for customary wreaths and flowers. However and my heart has often been sad ever, you could plant Lonicera on it when thinking how she must have worked which grow quickly to a green cover provided for my safety as well as my future without permitting weeds to come up. well-being. Through it all and in a most Never seek me there! Where I am is wonderful way, with godlike patience, at Ettlingen, in our stone garden, she hoped and prayed that her boy grandmother's hill as she herself used would find the road which Teadeth took, call it, Oar. ca, you will ~ u ~ L ' ~ right cause and happiness. But cannot material place, and Jurist's statement, that environment proved a great barrier to her abode. don't want to trouble anyone now by Mt. Lal As with coming there. Therefore I ask by wife me-fego.

d84 THE BAHÁ'Í WORLD

aspirations and every day in every way brought me from out the dark prison I became tougher and bolder. Fighting was a real pleasure, as welcome house; it was he who told me, hour after hour, about the great love of as a meal, and breeding a grocer's 'Akdu'l-3ahB for his children and window to steal his fruit or what-not that He was here to help us show that was, as I thought, a great joke. love for our fellowmen. Honestly, I It happened that one night the gang often wondered then what Mr. Hall was strolling along, just doing nothing meant when he talked so much about in particular [looking for trouble I love, God's love, Bahá'u'lláh's love, guess), when one of the gang said, "Oh, 'Abdu'l-Bahá's love, I love for the Covellook at the swell bunch of bananas." want, love for us, from us to God, to "Gee, I wish I had some," another HIS Prophets, etc. I was bewildered.

said. "Do you?" said I. About this time Still, I returned, to become more be-

I heard a dog bark~nginside the store, wildered, so I thought; and I wondered and IDaking in, I saw a large bulldog. why. It was, as I now know, the power

That seemed to aggravate me and t a of the Holy Spirit drawing one, who show my contempt for the watchdog w~shedto be drawn.

. . . I broke the window, took the "Thus the Word of God gave me a bananas, passed them around and wc new birth, made me a livrng soul, a merrily strolled up the street . . . rwivliied spirit. I am positive that

"Making the Jews feel that they were nothing else upon the earth could have back in Russia was lots d fun. I can't changed my character as it has been begin to tell you how we enjoyed per- changed. I am indeed a new being, secuting them, stealing their wine, changed by the power of the Holy Spirit breaking their windows, in f a c t doing .. . I have been resurrected and made everythng but setting f i r e to their live in the Kingdom of A1 AbhH.

homes. I plainly remember that it cost "Again through the attraction, of the me sixteen dollars to pay for broken Holy Spirit I was urged, so it seemed windows to keep out of jail. to me, to go to see 'Abdu'l-Bahi.

He

"The meat m i l that did so much to was at Green Acre, Maine, at this time, make us hard, was the saloon with its and when I heard the rumor that He attendant evlls. My! how tough I have might go back to His home seen fine young fellows become under and not come west, I immediately dethe influenceof liquor. I could tell you termined to go and see Him. I wasn't many things of a lawless nature, but going to miss meetiig 'Abda'l-BahH I wrltc these fenv to show what the after waiting po long to see Him.

(Palestine)

power of Eahi'u'Ilih can do in this day. "So I left home, going to Clevelad,

"I was a fugisve for four years, hav- where I attended a convention of print ing walked out of jail while awaihng ers for a few days. But I became so trial. Then, a youm fellow was being restless I could not stay for adjournarrested and I, of course, tried to take ment. How often have I thought about him away from the wlieeman. WhiIe that trip of mine from Cleveland to this was going on a couple of detec- Green Acre! The night before leaving tives happened along and in my haste to get away from them I leaped over

a

a thirty-five foot wall, breaking my leg, there,

vrhiw~ng

e$Cnpr the h i ~ l l ~ t ~ grq(lnd ton, and of how H e walked up and n about and wound up in the 'garden at down tellbg stories, emphasizing with the feet of the Beloved' as Bahb'u'U4h His hand. This, later, was fulfilled and has so beautifully written in the Seven He Imked just as I saw Him in C l e w -

Vall~a. land.

"At this time I was defended by our "As my finances were IQW, I at needeparted, but illustrious Bahi'i brother, essage must holm my way to Green Alhprt Hall, to whom I nwe many Acre. The Nickel Plate Railway was thanks and my werlasttng good will m y cholge, for mveyance to Bufiala,

for helping O tree me from the prism New York. From Buffalo I again 'rode of men and of self. It WAS he who the rods' to Boston, a long ride from

IN MEMORIAM , 485

around midnight until nine the next morning. The Boston Maine Railway was the laqt link between 'AMu'l-Bahi arid Ule outside world, tio i l swmed tu me, and when I crawled OH from the top of one of its passenger trains at Portsmouth, New Rampsh~re, I was excwrlngly happy. 4 hoat ride, a strcch car ride, and there I was, at the gate of Paradise. M y heart beating double time, I stepped ontn the soil of that to-be-famous center tired, dirty and wondering, but happy.

"I had a letter of introduction from Mr. Hall to Mr. Lunt, and in searching for h ~ mI met Mrs. Edward h e y , who, dear soul, was kind enough tn offer me a bed. She awakened me next morning a b u t six o'clock saying I'd have to hurry if I wished to see 'Abdu'l-Bahk.

"Arrivhg at the hotel I found quite a number of people there on the same miasion, to s& 'Abdu'l-Bahfi. Being one af the last arrivals, I was looking around, t o make mgself comfortable, when someone exclaimed, 'Here He comes, now.' . . After greeting several others and when about to go to "Answer: 'From Minneapolis.'

Fwd Mortensen

His room, He suddenly turned to me Hall?'

"Question: 'Do you know Mr. and sald in a gruff voice (at least I

the

"Answer: 'Yes.He told m e about thought so), 'Sit down,' and pointed to a chair--which I dldn't care ta do, as pleasant

Cause.'

elderly ladies were standing. But what was I to do! I meekly obeyed, feeling to

"Question: 'Did yw have a rebelious over what had happened.

journey?'

"Of d l the questions I wished y

amid this was the one! I dmped m

Such a welcome,after making that dif-ftcult trip! M y mind was m a whirl.

gaze to the floor-and again He put the question. I lifted my eyes to

His

"The first man to receive an interview with 'Abdu'l-BahL was a doctor:

..

eyes and His were as tnro . sparkling jewels, which seemed to look into my he had written a book on lwe. It seemed but a minute until . . . 'Abdu'l-very depths. I knew He hew and I BahA wishes to see Mr. Mortensen.' must tell ...

"I answered: 'I did not wme as pe+ Why, I nearly wilted. I wasn't ready.
You.'

ple generally do, who mme to see

I hadn't expected to be called until the very last thing. X had to go, and it was a strange feeling In my htact top

"Question: 'How did you come?'

"Answer: 'Riding under and on and wondering-wondering what would happen next. He welcomed me with a smfle and a w a r m hand-clasp, telling of

of the railway trams.'

"Buestion: 'Explain how?'

"Now as I loolted into the eyes me to be seated . . . His first wards were, 'Welcome! Welcome! You are pour

'Abdu'l-Bahh I saw they had chnged and a wondrous light seemed to very welmme'-then, 'Are you happy?' I felt out. It was the light of love and -which wns rcpcatcd three timco.

I relimed and vmy much happier. I cxthought, why do you ask me that so trains, many times? Of course, I am happy. . .

 cheeks,
 "Then, 'Where did you come from?'" gave me much h i t , and kissed the
 THE B A H'A'f W O R L D

dirty hat I wore, which had become soiled on my trip to see Him.
 the
 "When He was ready to leave Green
 his Acre I shod nearby to say gwdbye, Guardian: and to my astonishment He ordered include me to get into the automobile with IGM.
 'Abdu'l-Babi
 After a week w ~ t hHim at Malden, By.'
 Massachusetts, I left f o r hnmp with Pmm Ramnever-to-be-forgotten memories of a 12, 1913
 'That trlp d thine f r o m M i a p o l i s t o wonderful event-the meeting of God's Covenant, The Branch of that Prc-Ex-forgotten. Its istent FLoot eternally in
 "A few weeks later I again had that Therefore, wonderful privilege to be near the Cove-to God, nant for a fcw moments.
 living
 "These events a r e engraved u p m the merciful t a b k t of my heart and I love every moment ot them. The words of news BahL'u'llBh are my food, my drink and cabled my life. I h a w no other aim than to be beloved of servlcc ta Ilis pathway and to be obedient to HIS Covenant. his wul plained to Him I rode on the alter which He kissed both my biographical a m t "When a Soul Meets the Master" was read at memorial services. Not long beiore passing he had written to the "I a m happy that you chose to the story of my visit to at Green Acre in God Passes 'Abdu'l-Bahi! wrote me

 leh, Egypt, September Green Acre wlll never be mention will be recoraed books and works of history. be thou happy that, praise be thou hast an illumined heart, a spirit, and a r t vivified with breath.' "
 When the Guardian receivd the of Fred Mortensen's death he the family: "Grieve passing Fred.Welwmc nsaurcd Abh5 Kmgdom by- Master. Praying progress -- important achievement for the Cause in-khartoum-the first Spiritual Assembly was established in Sudan. Haj Taha had enabled his daughter and her husband to migrate to Khartoum, where ~ e accordingly y this wonderful task so desired by the beloved Guardian.

 In Jwc, 1046 Haj Taha fell ill w h i in Port Sald, and on July 8, he passed away at the age of fiftyeight. As there is yet no BahB'I burial ground in Port Said, his mff~n was transferred t o Ism6'illyih where it was buried next to that of his wfe.

- ..L His life of seervice and sacnflce gamed him the title of "Zealous s e w ant and symbol of faithfulness," which the beloved Guardian conferred upon him In his cable.

FRIEDRICH SCHWEIZER 1

Friedrich Schwebw, the husband of Kaj Taha El-Hamamsi the well-known and active German BahB'i teacher, Mrs. Annemarie Schweizer, w a s born in Esalingen, S e p last tlf w h i ~ hwna the plastering of the tember 12, 1884. He adupltd the career interior of HaHrato'l-ds of Cairo, of a topographer. In 1910 he was intm where his name appears in the records. duced into our Falth by MISS Alma A sacrifice which places him among Knobloch, at that time a pioneer
 In
 the pioneers was his immediate re- Germany. In November, 1911 our wellspnse to the promsal for emigration beloved Master invltd Mr. and Mrs. introduced by the beloved Euard~anfall- Scbwelzer, who were then new believlowing the success achieved by the ers, to come to Paris. They were both Baha'is of Egypt on the clccaslon of very anxious t o see Htm.
 Mrs.Schweithe Centenary celebrations In 1944: he zer tells about it:
 "During the trip from emigrated to Tanta, the capital of the Stuttgart to Paris and the morning of biggest province of Egypt. our visit we prayed that our hearts
 At Tanta persecutions began and dis- and souls might be purified to recave turbances broke out there. The few the blessings of the meeting with Him.

BahB'ls in that mty were exposed to Scarcely had we arrived when He sumreal danger and underwent many hard- moned us to His presence. Lady Blomships, but the presence of Hal Tahe field had entered the mom Before us; seemed to assure them that the mercy we saw that she h ~ n her t knees k e h ~ of Bahh'u'lllh was with them. and 'Abdu'l-BahL. Friedrich said, 'That I cannot do--heel down before a man!'

enthusiasm, they could remain firm We entered--and the first one to h i e d and undaunted by the threats of their down was Friedrich, so greatly was he enemies. Their reward from the Abha overlrelmed by the majesty and glory Kingdom was success in the formabon of His sanctity. "'Abdu'l-Bahh Idled of the f ~ r s tSpritual Assembly of h a t him up md embraced him HP WRU c ~ t yin 1945. meatly moved. On another occasion

Through the sacrifice and zeal of Haj fie matron~l Srrbrlhal Aawmbb oi the

Taha, the same year recorded a very ~ % s eI mrmany stld

488 THE BAHAI WORLD

'Abdu'l-Bahil called him to His side and kept his hand during His speech. How happy he was, and we aU with him! All the friends present congratulated hlrn on this honor."

In April, 1913, d e n the Master, on His brig through Germany, stayed a few d a y s in St1ttteav-t. Friedrich again had the privilege of meeting Him. His attachment to the Roly Cause grew, and he became one of the early pioneers for our Faith in Germany. Friedrich Schweizer aWags put aside his own desires when it was necessary to sacrifice his interests to serve the Holy Cause or to beIp a believer in distress. But he never uttered many words. Silent, solid, and wholly reliable, he did his duty. In the same spirit he perform4 good, accurate work d u r ing the years he was the secretary oi the National Spiritual Assembly (from about 1930 to 1535) and as a member of the local Spiritual Assembly in Stuttgart.

The 13th of July 1946, he suffered an attack of pneumonia and passed away.

All who were close to our dear friend will know that when he passed away

Iwe, how a life filled with labor, care, and the his generosity and observance of duty combined with afffor the fection, love, and benevolence to ev-

w everybody, came to its earthly conclusion.

your

When enumerating his high qualities,

God."

we remember not only his professional activity and all the concern he displayed as a father for the welfare of his family, but also we remember especially a work not so obvious to the public: his labor for peace, his struggle for the conquest of national, mu-

1855 - 1946

E

cial, religious, and social prejudice and some stand antagonism and his endeavors for the care to improve the prosperity of all mankind. Very early inside, behold he was enlightened by the divine beam do not penetrate far. Still others emitted by the eternal Light, the call of Bahá'u'lláh sent down again to the the frag.

world through His love to redeem hu-having emanated. And it was this beam at the beauty, pass out again supernal Light which radiated from are always our friend's heart.

intoxi-

His name will always be connected they

with the history of the Bahá'í Faith in tend the gar-

Germany. The German Bahá'ís, and those from Stuttgart-Zuffenhausen in

Gmünd

Friedrich Schweizer

gratitude for his abundant edge, and advice, for his readiness to sacrifice, and home we found with him. We hope what he would say to us: "do duty; work for the Cause of

SOW DAVM BOGCH

BY C ~ E X M T M.

At the gate of the garden and look within, but do not ter. Others step ty, but encircle this garden, inhaling rance of the flowers, but joyed its full by the same gate. But there some who enter, and becoming cated with the splendor of what behold, remain for life to don.-'Abdu'l-Bahá

, From materialism and by Elh particular, o w him a great deal" d

IN MEMORIAM

Wp~rsnd BUou Straun.
489

Such a gardener was John David evidently Gad had other plans for him.
Bosch. And the flowers he tended were but One of several children, he was the men, women and children in whose eleven years old when his mother died. heartn he had, ht one t lme ar anather, She hxd heti a woman of culture and planted the s d s of spiritual truth. deep spiritual insight and ha felt her
When he spoke of spiritual things and loss wry keenly. His father married of BahB'u'llkh, there was a light in his again. The second wife was a follower clear blue cyeo t h d seemed to b a of Swe&nborg, antl h d o w long John reflection of a splendor that few others became familiar wth the books of that have had the joy of beholding, and when renowned philosopher. Considering this he looked into the eyes of a fellow hu- exceptional relig~ousbackground, i t is m a n being a glow of friendliness lighted not yurprlsing that his impressionable up his face, crinkled his eyes a t the young mind was influenced to want
to comers and brought a quick smile to know more about spiritual matters-a hls lips. desire which was to be ultimately ati is-
Although there are many friends who fled years afterward in another part remember him as a young man and of the world. gossibly somewhat different in appear- Wls formal education, ended at
the ance, most of us who h e w him only age of fourken. He s m n left home, gw in his later years were sure that he Ing to Germany where for a few years must always have been a distinctive Ilc worked at and studied wine-making. individual. I& was tall and straight. From there he went t o France and His hair was white and he wore a well- spent f ~ v eyears in its famed wine dlstrimmed white beard. In the summer- trrcts; then to Spain to further acquaint time, when he dressed in his spotless white serge and Panama hat, he had with his the look of a man of noble rank. Johann

He was a person of few words; he did not need to speak. His handclasp was warm and firm, and one was in-learn stantly set aside in his company. His every action was an expression of love home and kindness, and he was never bag-citizenship, deeper than when serving his beloved Faith and Bahá'í friends. To hear him Nebraska.

tell of his precious experience with 'Abdu'l-Bahá was to feel that one had West and inhaled a bit of the fragrance of the Cali-

Master's presence, and he drawn more four closely both to Him and the John He had loved so dearly. cattle and John David Bosch (Johanna David Bdsch) was born August 1, 1855, in New Sankt Johann in the Kanton of St. Gallen. friend. But the lure of California was too strong for him, Switzerland. His parents and finally former Zwingli, a contemporary of Dürer

Martin Luther, in the year 1621 twelve in fathers of families in the Toggenburg in the southern part of the state.

of Switzerland had established a fund of two thousand florins to provide financial assistance every year to any himself with his chosen business.

In 1830 he came to America sister Lorusa and her husband, Zuberbühler, who planned to farm in Nebraska. For a while he worked on railroad construction. He began to

English, and having decided that America should be his permanent he made application for which was granted in due time.

He did not remain long in Like many other young men of that era, he heard the call of the determined to send his way to California. In Oklahoma he worked for months on a large ranch where he charge of a thousand head of had to ride the range. The ranch was owned by a Chickasaw Indian in whom he found a true and lasting to resist and so he set out again, reaching Sacramento in 1881.

the next ten years he was occupied various branches of the wine trade

In 1889 he paid a brief visit native land. Some time after his return

two malt descendants who came to the moved to northern California to to bestudy theology. John, a direct descendant - come superintendent of the large

ant of one of the founders, was entirely winery at Windsor in Sonoma County.

itled to the benefits of this fund, but In 189, under the direction of the

490

THE BAHAI WORLD

California Wine Association, he super- Mrs. Helen Gaoda of Oakland, upon inbnded the crection and eqdpmnt, whom he called three months later and a t Geyserville, of the largest and most learned crf the history and principles morlsrn ~ i n r t qin the oountry for the of the Faith. Having found what manufacture of dry and sweet wines seemed to be the truth for which he and brandies. He made his home there had been seeking, he endeavored to a t but retained his position as superin- tend the meetings in her home at least tendent of lwth wineries until his rp. once a month. AR t h s r n w t l n p 6 ~ were trrement from the business. He also of the afternoon tea party variety. organized and managed the Cal~ornia there were seldom any men but him-Grape Nectar Company for the pmduc- self present, and s m e t f m e s he would tron, by an improved process of sterlli- stand with one foot on the ferry and aation, of a supenor quality of unfer- the other on the wharf. hesitating mented grape juice. T h i s company he whether to join the ladies or remain eventually turned over to the Associa- in San Francisco; but always, when tion. B e h e e n 1909 and 1836 he acquired the whistle blew, h e would be almard extenslvc properties in Sonoma, Men- bcund for Oakland and the Gwdall docino, and Contra Costa Counties, on horn e .

which were grown varied agrrcultural On May 29, 1905, he wrote his first crops. As there were many olive and letter to 'Abdu'l-Baha. The acknowlprune trees on his Geyservzlle land, he edgement, receivwl through Mrs. Godat one time experimented in the mak- all, enjoined: "O thou John Bosch: ing of high grade olive 011, and built a Raise the call of the Kingdom and plant for prune-drying on a commercial give the Glad-Tidings to the people; scale; and a hobby of his had been the gurde them to the Tree of L ~ f c so ,

that

raismg of pure breed Swiss goats. they m a y gather the fruits from that

Incidentally, it was in 1900 that he Tree and attain that great Bounty."

mmpleted his progress u! the Masonic That was the first of many Tebleta

Order, receiving the thirty-second de- from 'Abdu'l-BahB. Some were adgree and becomlng s mcmber of San dressed t o him alone, aud surrle Lu him Francisco Scottish Rite Consistory No. and another behever together. One was 1. wrtten dune 25, 1912, to hlm and

his

Throughout all these years Mr. Bosch friend, the famous Mr. Luther Burbank persisted in his ardent search for truth. of Santa Rosa. In this Tablet, 'Abdu'l-

Referring to his passing, a friend re- Bahj called them: "Ye two roses in called that when he had first met him the Garden of the Knowledge of Gcd," he was investigating the claims of and expressed the hope that: "In the spiritualism and =cult sciences. "He utmost of freshness and benuby ye may was an unusual seeker after truth," became manifest; that is, ye may the friend wrote, "m that he w a s not arise to serve the Kingdom of God." urged because of misery or dissatis- And in an earlier message 'AbduT- Inction in his life, nor by curiosity. L Bshk wrote: "With the utmost humiliiy s a w him grasp the fact of the Im- I pray at the Kingdom of Abhi that mortality of man, and that seemed suf- that soul [Mr. Eoschl may become ficient far him." holy, fkd capacity to receive the out-

Mr. B O Ahad not heard of the BahB'i pouring of Eternim and become a lu- Faith until early in 1905 when, travel- minous stpr in the West." ing by train from San Francisco to Upon learning that the use of alcoholic Geyservill, he chanced to meet an liquor as a beverage is forbidden in old scguaintaace, a Mrs. Beckwith of the teachings of Bahikdl1Bh, Mr. Bosch Chicago. She was reading the book. -a professional m e taster, though a 'Abbds Egendi, His Life am? Teach- nondrinker of spirituous liquors-be mgs, by Myron R. Phelps. H e p~cked came troubled about what he should it up, glanced over a few pages. and do m regard t n h ~ swine business. asked: "Where d ~ dyou get thls b w k ? Therefore, in a letter ta 'Abdu'l-BahL, It is good enough for me and I want he asked for advice. In reply, 'Abdu'lto buy a copy." She referred him to Baha supposed that it would be better to engrgo m another business, but gradually. Consequently he severed his connection with the Association in 1916 and. applied himself to the further development of his properties. Mr. Bosch attended the first Bahh'f Temple Unity Convention in ChicaBo, in 1909, as a delegate from the Pacdic Coast and Hawai~. Wile there he met many of the early Bahi'is, and in a short time his home became a point of attraction f o r traveling teachers, including Mr. Thornton Chase, Mr. Charles Mason Remcy, and Mrs. Isabella D. Brittingham; also Mrs. t u a Getsinger, whme visit inspired him to w r ~ t e 'Abdu'l-BahP, December 1, 1910, "May this simple place on the hills be dedicated to the universal spirit of the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh."

IN MEMORIAM

491

When the news came that 'Abdu'l-Bahí was on the way to America, Mr.

Bosch had such an opportunity to see him when he started for New York on April 10, 1912. At Chicago, hearing that 'Abdu'l-Bahá was in Washington, he went there instead, only to find that 'Abdu'l-Bahá had not yet left

John David Bosch

New York. So he hurried on to that city, arriving very early on a cold and snowy morning. As soon as he had partaken of it 'Abdu'l-Bahá said:

"You

secured his room in the Hotel Anconia are now one of the family. You may he stole to 'Abdu'l-Bahá's suite and come and go as you please."

was admitted almost immediately. Remaining with 'Abdu'l-Bahá while relating his experience to a friend, Mr. He received many visitors. Then I went for a walk, and when I returned

Bosch said:

When I entered the room I had a party after an hour I was amazed to see about two hundred people in the lobby. In a few minutes 'Abdu'l-Bahí passed felt quite empty. I never took the opportunity through. Noticing the respect that these expressions out. Eventually 'Abdu'l-Bahá told people paid him, the assistant manager me all that I had wanted to ask him of the hotel, who was standing near Foolishly I remarked that I had come here, remarked, "That must be a man three thousand miles to see him, and of God."

He smilingly replied, "I came seven miles. Three automobiles were awaiting me to see you." I told 'Abdu'l-Bahí and his party to take care that I, being a foreigner, had then invited Mr. and Mrs.

not the capacity of a speaker and Edward Kelley for luncheon. 'Abdu'l-Bahá that my work so far had been to circulate Bahá stepped into the first one with late books and a few pamphlets. Two of the Persian friends. There was

'Abdu'l-Bahá said: "You are doing very well and one of the attendants you are doing better than talk-ants beckoned me to come. As I reached. With you it is not words or the color of the door, 'Abdu'l-Bahí seized me by movement of the lips; with you it is the mind and pulled me into the car, the heart that speaks. In your presence seating me at his right. He seemed silence speaks and breathes." Then tea very tired. Immediately he put his was brought in and after we had both arms around my waist, dropped his head on my left shoulder, and with me for two months in Padití. Came a deep sigh went to sleep. During the whom they met was a minister, and entire hour's drive, while the friends he later thanked 'Abdu'l-Bahá for sending the automobiles looked at the sights, among these emissaries faithful people. OR

49.2

THE BAHÁ'Í WORLD

'Abdu'l-Bahá slept.

the day of their departure, the island-

When we arrived at the Kinney home they showered them with gifts and, in a chair was placed in the center of accordance with a Tahltian custom, bethe room for 'Abdu'l-Bahi, but He did stowed upon Mr. Bosch a title meannot sit in it. Instead, He walked about ing "First king of the great f a r n i b of among the people, shaking hands. BahA'is arrived among us." When He came to me He panscd right In April of the next year Mr. and by without seeing me, and for a rn- Mrs. Bosch left Geyserville for Haifa m a t l felt hurt. Then I remembered to see 'Abdu'l-Bah6. After visiting and that m the morning He had told m e teaching In France, Switzerland, Gerthat I was "one of the family," and many, and Italy, they reached Watfa I h e w then that thre had been no on November 14, 1921. Only their need to sag anything to me. spoken words could adequately de-'Abdu'l-Baha departed for Washing- scribe the joy and happiness they had ton five days later and Mr. Bosch went being with 'Abdu'l-Bahi f o r two in the same car; ekght days afterward heavenly weeks. But no words m l d he again traveled in the same c a r portray the depth of the sorrow that with Him to Chicago. It was on thin descended upon them, and upon the trip that 'Abdu'l-BnhA bestowed upon household, and upon all the BahC'is of h~rnthe name "Nbrbni," writing it out the world, when 'Abdu'l-Bahi passed in His own hand and explaining, away on Novembpr 28, 1921. through an interpreter, that it meant Two days before His passlng, 'Abdu'l-"full of light." Mr. Bosch humbly ex- Bahi had walked in khe garden with p r e s s 4 the wsh that 'Abdu'l-Bahi Mr. Bcsch, giving him fruit from the might find time to vlsit his unpreten- orange trees. He was the last Westhoue home in Gcyscrville, to which erner to have this great blessing. Also 'AMu'l-Bahb replied, "Wlth you,"-and to h ~ mwas given the sacred privilege rpeatiw-"with you, I would sleep in of assisting the family with the prepathe basement." rations for the burlal of the Servant

Mr. Bosch remained in Chicago for of God; and the shoulder upon which the Annual BahA'l Convention and was "bdu'l-BabB had slept in New York, present when IAbdu'l-BaM laid the helped in Haifa to carry His casket foundation stone of the Baha'i House t o its final resting-place on Mt. Carmel. of Worship in Wilmette, Illinois, May At the request of Bahfyiyih IWnum, 1, 1912, the sister of 'Abdu'l-BahA, Mr. and Mrs.

The story of the visit of 'Abdu'l-B& Bosch remained in Haifa for the cu% to Califomla cannot be told here, but tornary forty days of mourning. Dursate it to say that Mr. Bosch spent lng this period, the grandson of 'AbduZ every possible moment in His presence. B a h i , Shoghi Effendi, returned from In San Francism, on January 19, EngIand to become the first Guard~an 1914, Mr. Bosch married Mrs. Louise of the BahQ'i Faith. Wben Mr. and Mrs. Sophia Stapfer of New York, being the Bosch took thc~r leave, he handed sccmd marriage £or each of them. She, them the first copy of tBe Will and too, was a native of Sw~tzerland,and Testament of 'Abdu'X-Babi to deliver from that time forward, in all their to the Bahh'i Convention in Chicago In activities, the names of "John and Apr~d 1922.

Louise" were inseparable.

En route to the United States they

When the Teaching Tablets of revistted Germany, and it was then

'Abdu'l-Bahi were released, Mr. and that Mr. Bosch was instrumental in Mrs Bosch were eager to respond at hrin~ineabout one of the first R n h i ' i once. As both spoke fluent F'rench, they meetings fn Berlin.

chose Tahiti of the Society Islands in Upon their return to G e y s e r v f i they which to pioneer, and in 1920 they were soon engrossed in teaching work.

IN MEMORIAM

493

Frequently they made trfpts to south.

out &, and demonstrathg h t ern California. In the winter of 192% unique spirit of hospitality which from 1928 Mr. Bosch visited Portland, the very beghnlng they had poured

Seattle, and Vancouver, in the latter out in a veritable flood upon Bahh'is city aiding in the formation of the first and non-Bahs'is alike. Particularly

was

local Spiritual Assembly in 1928. this true a t the Unity Feasts, that Wherever he went he carried to the each year marked the opening of the friends the spirit ut luv e arrd rlevwhiul~ s c s b s , at which they so warmly wclto the Faith that motivated his o m mmed everyone. F m 1927 on, the life. Mrs. Bosch, meanwhile, was d* success of thc school became the alling her part, traveling from place to compelling p-se of their lives, and place, striving to spread the Faith in they liked nothing better than to share

Sonoma County. But the greatest of all with the friends, at four o'clock tea testimonials to their unremitting la- under the "Big Tree," their recollebors is the BahVi School at Geyserville. tions of 'Abdu'l-BahB', and the believ-

On August 1, 1925, more than a hun- ers of former dayr;.

dred BmhA'is from the S m Francisco

Mr. Bosch livcd to see the s c h d

Bay area, bsides other guests, con- grow from a small, informal gathergregated at Geyservllle to celebrate ing do an efficiently operating instituthe seventieth birthday of Mr. %sch.

tion, from which many young people

It proved to be such a happy affair wwit Iurth lo lake Iht! leadlings tu it was repeated the succeeding year, oountries in which he had once traveland at that time the idea of a western ed and taught.

s c h d for the training of Bahl'i tenth-

HIS last appearance at the s c h l ers began to take shape.

was on the festive occasion of

his

In the spring of 142'1 the National eighty-ninth birthday when students Spiritual Assembly appointed a com- and invited guests assembled in the memory of three - John Bosch, Leroy evening at Bahl'i Hall to do him honor.

ions, and George Latimer--to find an enormous cake, bearing eighty-nine loaves for a western states Bahh'i lighted candles, was brought in and summer school. Mr. Bosch recalled placed upon the table at which Mr. that he had written 'Abdu'l-Bahi in and Mrs. Bosch were seated. Then a 1919, offering his Geyserville property long line of children marched in, singing "a Bahh'i community home or celebrating "Happy Birthday" as they laid operative institution and Baha't their handfuls of flowers on the table scholar." Hence it was but natural that until it was entirely covered--evidence he should again offer the facilities of the love cherished by both old and his ranch for this purpose. Thus the young for these two selfless souls. Mr. first Bahi'I school in the West came Bosch, a much advice and laughter into being, the first session opening a term, at last succeeded in blowing out on his seventy-second birthday, August the candles. After individual greetings 1, 1927. In subsequent letters the Guar- and felicitations, the whole party movement stressed the hope that this school led down to the "Big Tree" to partake would "flourish and attract an increasing number of the cake and elaborate refreshments ing number of spiritually-minded, capable the hostesses had prepared. able souls" who would "in time un- Following a lingering illness, Mr.

reservedly accept the Bahai Revelations- Bosh passed quietly away on July 22, 1946, just at the end of the twentieth work that is being achieved for the twentieth session of the Bahai School, and our beloved Cause." ninety days before his ninety-first birth-

In 1916 Mr. and Mrs. Bosch deeded day.

their property to the National Spiritual Assembly. On July 24, at two o'clock In the after-

Assembly, thereby establishing the memorial, funeral rites were held in Bahai School as a permanent institution of Hall where the Master had lain in state for the American Bahh'i community. In the mid-morning. Masses of floral previous services they had been personal pieces bore silent witness to the affections to the Master, honoring them with love, esteem and respect of Bahais, neighbors, and business associates.

494

THE BAHAI WORLD

During the impressive ceremonies conducted by Mr. Leroy Ioas, an intimate Bahai friend, the Village stores remained closed. The pallbearers were neighbors and Bahais representing several nationalities. A beautiful spot in Willow Hill Cemetery, overlooking peaceful Sonoma Valley and shaded by the trees so dear to him, is now his rest in place.

A cablegram sent by the Guardian from Haifa was received by the National Spiritual Assembly July 29: "Profoundly grieve passing dearly beloved, greathearted, high-minded, distinguished servant of Bah'u'llah, John Bosch. His saintly life, pioneer services. historic contribution of institution of summer school, entitle him to rank among outstanding figures of the closing years of heroic, and opening years of formative age of the Bah'i Dispensation. Concourse on high extol his exalted services. Assure his wife and valiant companion of my deepfelt sympathy. Advise hold special gathering In Temple as tribute to his imperishable memory " As befitting one of such lofty station, the earthly chapter of his life closed Him, and loving Him . . . For the cause with a memorial service in the Bah'i of God will they contend, and not fear House of Worship at Wilmette, on Sun- the blame of the blamer." day, November 24, 1946, to pay homage In his youth he decided to bear from

to his immortal memory. the enemies even a "rain of arrows,"

as he wrote from Baghdad to his father in Karbil, who criticized him for his open declaration of his Faith and advised him to conceal it. Saboor remained firm and wrote 'Abdu'l-Bah Saboor, the patient, so addressed by asking Him for His Divine Confirmation the beloved Guardian, was a faithful tions. In His kind and encouraging rebeliever of Baghdad. He passed away peacefully, 'Abdu'l-Bahb alluded to his future in Sulaymaniyah on August 3, 1946. In and described "the absence of the beautiful letter of tribute and consolation from liever from his native land for the sake of it" as "the cause of divine mercy the Guardian dated October 27, 1948 we read these words: "He was a sincere and %he source of rest and delight in servant, gallant and faithful . . . peaceful both worlds." Accordingly Saboor d.+

content in adversities, content with what voted himself to the diffusion of the had been ordained for him by his divine fragrances in the Bah'i meet Creator." ings or whenever he met a soul search Saboor has recognized the ing after truth. He suffered insults and of the Cause with me as a boy he read even stoning in our memories,

He dethe following in a verse from the Qur'jn fended the interests of t h e Cause (5:59): "O ye who believe! . . . God notably when he was a member of the d l l then raise up a people loved by Spiritual Assembly of B a a d B d , which

IN MEMORIAM

495 remilled in 1922 the assaults of the ~ovenanbreakers.

ORCELLA REXMIR131

OrceUa Redon3 (Louise Cutt9-Pow-Although S a b r had no high secular in Tracy, ell) was born June 12, 1887 eduualium, h~ drank dcrgly of the dl-youth to Minnesota. Planning in her vine outpourings. His only happiness she a& become a mllege professor, was in extrading from the Holy Bocks California a t tended the University of the Clad-Tidmg~:of "the coming of the studied four lan-Berkeley, where she

T ~ r r l " 9nrl in t ~ l l i n epeople about the guage% and maJored in education and new Revelation. He ~ I l e c t c d the receiving her domestic science. On verses alluding to the "Lordship of degree, she took

Bachelor of Science

Baha'u*116h*' because he was dazzled philosophy and gsyby the signs of the greatness 0 6 found her interests changing, graduate work in chology,

BahB'u'llhh. lecturer.

and bccame a writer and Between 1924 and 1934 S a h r was is a

The name "Orcelle RexIord" greatly distressed by economic circum-letters chosen cryptogram, made up of stances and by the death of h ~ wrfes in New for her by an acquaintance and children. He continually swght the this name symprayers of the beloved Guardian, and wish to link her personality

York City. T o Orcella

bollzed her received several comforting replies , which would to cosmic forces for g o d promising future blessings. These di-W s for develvine promiacs were later fulfilled.

give her the gretest Y m opment.

Though old and weak h e gave the BaM'l Orcella Arst heard of the last yesra of his life to pioneering the Faith brom Mrs. Myrta

Sandoz of Clwe-

Bahi'i Faith in new areas. He joined confirmed by the pioneers in establishing the first Boston, Massachusetts - local Assembly in Kirkuk in 1942. Then a believer in in 1945 the National Spiritual Assembly of 'Iriq sent him to Amara in the south where he went to join the Bahh'i Group there. Here he studied the Faith the people were fanatical. They stoned him, and the police carried him for investigations. Returning to Baghdad he was honored to receive his last letter from Dr. Getsinger from the Guardian dated May 23, 1946 in order to serve the Faith with which alluded to his last days. At this time, Saboor became radiant and had the beauty of a mature soul. She investigated her On December 23, 1946, he traveled to Sulaymaniyah to join the Bahh'i Group. A month later his life ended peacefully "Know thyself" August 3, 1946. she had often been He is buried on a high rocky hill overlooking the city, his grave near Jefferson with shadowy bougainvilleas. The Cuadlarr's tribute is engraved on white marble at his resting place, that the friends will read and remember at nine years American Governor in honor that he was the first Bahh'i pioneer to land, Ohio, and was later Dr. Edward Getsinger in Baghdad. She became a student in 1918 and 1919. Since belief and action were available to her, while with Dr. Getsinger she brought along two students from her own classes. These, too, became began to organize classes in order to serve the Faith with maximum efficiency, stock of her educational capacities; she even genealogy, to appraise past tendencies and thus fully to obey the commandment, "Know thyself". As a child told of her second William Jamis, appointed by as consul and charge in Baghdad, who gave his services cost to the then young and (1802-1811). Orcella felt that her tendie in Sulaymhiyyih.

ency to

pioneer, and to contribute h a services to a righteous Cause, might have come down to her from this ancestor.

'AMu'l-Bah6's newly-revealed Tablets OF the Divint Plan ~ a l l e a f o r p i p

- 3- Uu h . m I WBlrlld Assembly o t the neers to spread the Faith. In respmse, lmrn mnranal iumlshcd by W a r d P. Hatch M Y S cd Tra. end OW.

4% T H E B A H A ' f W O R L D

Orcella 6et out for Alaska in 1922. h m s , beyond the fmntler in Mexico--

Some of her forbears had joined the the list seems endleas. gold rush to the Yukon: she determined W i l e visiting Phoenix, Drcella
was to find the gdol d souls receptive to Injured In a fall, which ended her proher Message. The first Alaskan to ac- fessional career as n lecturer. In Hollycept the Faith through Orcella w a s wood to regain her health, she was Gayne V. Gregory, who s m became active in teaching and administrative the husband of his teacher and within work. Then she left California on what lwn years gave up his extensive dental was to be the last of so m a n y journeys practice at Anchorage to serve as busi- for the Faith: alone, she attended the ness manager of Omella's lecture tours. thirty-eighth Annual Bnhll'i Conven-Rc@lla continued to be a lecturer by tion at Wilmette, teaching in various profession; while conducting classes on cities and at the Geyscrville Bahk'i various subjects (among other topics, School on h e r wav home. On Sundav such as diet, she did much to popu- morning, August li, 1946, she died s u i - larize the use of color in clothing and denly in her bath.

in household furnishings and utensrls, a t that time traditionally drab) she Messages Boon began to arrive from would refer her students to a lecture many parts of the BaM'l world from that would follow the paid series of the grieving spiritual children of Ortalks, and would b r ~ n gthem a horn- cella. Johanne Sorensen Hoe$ wrote ledge that was beyond price. This final from Denmark, "It was through htartalk was on the advent oX RahB'u'll5h. ing her lecture about the Bahi'i Faith Invariably, she left a Bah4'i study that I became a Bahi'i (in Honolulu, 1925) . . I will always be thankful to class, which was then conducted by Orcella Rexford that she could not keep other BahB'i teachers. That h e r meth- her great love of BahB'u'UQh by herod was successful is proved by the self but wanted to bring the loving meslarge number of Bahs'is who first sage of: God to her fellow men." And learned of the Faith through Omella. Ophelia B. Crum: "I was among the 5n Dcnvcr, for csempc, cightccn hun- audience of about a thwsand who dred people attended the Denham heard Orcdla say: 'I have been teach-Theater on each of two nights to hear ing you about these outer subjects in Orcella speak on the Cause, and a which you a r e interested, but now I study class of four hundred and thirty- wlll tell you of the greatest truth

that five people resulted. When, toward the you should h o w today . . . ' The next close of her life, a .serious accident night we met to form study classes and ended her professional lecture career. f o r three months we would meet . . . giving her the freedom she had longed At the end of that time some forty for, she found that she had been de- students became members of the New prived of her best teaching medium. York BaM'f communitv." Victoria E.

In 1925 the Gregorvs left Ala~kafor Robarts, who introduced Gayne Greg-Honolulu, and after teaching there, re ory to Orcella, writes: "Orcella Rexturned to the mainland where they ford was an outstanding woman, m e traveled from west to east and north of the few persons whom I ever met to south; then crossing the Atlantic who never said an unkind or critical and taking their car with them, they word of another . . her one great motored through Europe. While here dcske war to establish the BahA'i Cause (~ n19261, they received permission to over the world." From Boston, Helen visit Shoghi Effendi in Haifa. Return- L. Archambault states, "In 1931 . . .

ing spir~tually reinvigorated to the she had been holding her Health Lec-United States, Orcella continued her tures whereby many were helped phyconstant travels: at one time o r another sically and mentally . . . out of that she taught in Oakland, Milwaukee, Dwr- group eleven became declared believvr, N- Tork, Omnha, G n t t l r , S p prq . . . In 1lnJ Orrelln c a m e ngnin kane, Boston, Atlanta, Chicago, Flint, to Boston . . . out of this group nine

Detroit, Butte, Phoenix, St. Paul, Win- have since declared their belief; . . . neapolis, -in Florida, Texas, Okla- m y husband Vidor Archambault and I

IN MEMORIAM

407 were among the first elwen and are grateful beyond words to our 'spiritual mother.' " Mrs. Wetzcl Ingold of Whitefish Bay, Wixonsin: "My lifo has been d ~ e p l y blessed by knowing her."

Martam Haney, Washington D.C., early BahH'i teacher, says, "It was so easy for her to make cantacts wlth her fellow human beings . . . she bad a precious and sweet sympathetic understanding of life and pmple. OEcella was a born optimist. . . T h ~ soptimism drew people to her. She had an intense desire to really know the Bahá'í teachings. . . . At one of our annual conventions there were twenty-two believers present who were the spiritual children of Orcella." Mamie L. Seto of San Francisco, one of the Bahá'í teachers who assisted Orcella with follow-up classes, writes of the study group which Orcella left in Honolulu, and adds, "She maintained that we must meet people on the personal plane, help them with their personal problems, and then take them to the universal or world aspect of our Faith . . . she gave one of the most convincing mental talks on the Faith I have ever heard. She ~ n ~ l in

Orcella Rexford

. . .
 in the early time create, A letter from the Guardian, through and with the greatest ease devise and R6blyyih = Anurn, to the local Assemblage formulate plans for any project . . . was of mLo$ Angeles says in part: "She had no task seemed too difficult. . . . e of the most devoted teachers She looked forward eagerly to the response of the Cause in the States, and living of each day as an opportunity for attention of development. . . I can think of few people who loved a new idea as much as Orcella did. . . . She was radiant devotion will, not be forgotten, and her example should certainly be born to conquer and overcome those obstacles which stand between one and an inspiration to her fellow believers.

his goal. I have seen her leave a message should I be invited to speak at a public meeting." her services just as the new Season

Orcella Rexford was laid to rest August 14 at Inglewood Park Cemetery, Year Plan is getting under way. He asks you to particularly convey to dear Mr. Gregory his profound sympathy for Friends filled the chapel; Paul Schupp the loss of such a wonderful woman any, who learned of the Faith through and to assure him he will pray for her happiness in the next world, a Orcella, traveled from Phoenix, Arizona to sing at the memorial service, in which she will And many of her old fellow teachers awaiting her. . . and Mrs. India Haggarty, Mrs. Florence Holdnager, and Mrs. Emily Schieday on A record of Orcella's last day on earth was set down by her friend, Mann spoke. Winstan Evans read the Mrs.

 Mrs. prayer at the grave. The Guardian's cable to Dr. Gregory was made "Deplorable loss Indefatigable, gifted promoter Edith Weston:
 That last morning Mrs. Weston drove I Orcella and other friends up from Hollywood to the Fiesta in Santa Barbara. Heartfelt, sympathy. Fervent prayers. Shoghi." Barbara. Orcella, true to her love of colors,

498

THE BAHAI WORLD

was wearing a striped green cotton I have missed, and I have always wanted and a dark emerald-green sweater to go." her, and her hat and mat were two It got dark and they started for ahead of purple: with her soft hair home. This was Orcella's very last and fresh skin, she looked radiant and journey; she devoted it to teaching her youthful. friend:
 They went up by the Coast road; the "She talked Bahai, she radiated it;
 wind blew, the smell of flowers in the air she seemed like some spiritual elf, the spray stung their faces. In San Diego to share with us the ethereal joy that Barbara Orcella guided them to the of her religion. 'Bahai is love peace,' old Spanish mission she explained. "They are hospitable. No Missions"-and then took them to call one has too much, for all share. Chilon a resident Bahai family, the Matteson must get the consent of both parsons, explaining on the way that enters before they marry. Those who Bahai are hospitable and that they come into the Faith receive a special could doubtless eat their picnic hour outpouring of the Holy Spirit. This in the Matteson home. Mrs. Weston discovers always with a new Manifestation that Mr. Matteson had built. Oh, if I could be your spiritual his house with his own hands, using mother, and bring you into the peace, sections of old buildings, packing cases the happiness, the utterment n t , and new lumber, Above the mantle- that the Faith has given me.'

piece they saw a green, sculptured "After awhile she was silent. I asked square of rosewood, on which was if she was tired. 'Oh no,' she replied, painted the symbol of the Greatest and once again she became her old Name. The visitors spread their lunch alert wonderful self. At 10:30 we said out on the long dining-room table. TRHM good-by. my doctor--my husband-- they left, Orilla promised to come and she said reflectively, Was my only respond a weekend in the little guest room on this perfect day. I wish he house Mr. Matteson was holding. could have been with us.' "

After that they watched the Fiesta parade, which depicts the city's history from Indian times. Orilla and Mrs.

Weston sat in the curbing along the line of march; they saw babies in flowerdecorated carts, young men and

On October 15, 194. the Bahá'ís women in the costumes of long ago, of Egypt received with sorrow the news Spanish dons on Arab horse-bright of the passing away of AM-Fetouh colors, shiny harness, tooled-leather Battah, an early Egyptian Bahá'í, and saddles heavy with silver. Warner a true servant of the Faith.

Brothers was taken pictures. Tiesun He followed his father in embracing was hot, but Orilla did not complain. the Cause during the historic sojourn Later they drove around a bit, started off 'Abdu'l-Bahá in Egypt in 1911-1912, to window shop, ended by shopping in and had the privilege of being in His earnest-and Orilla was delighted Holy Presence.

with hex purchases. At six she suggested- He devoted himself to the service of ed they go over to the Samarkand, the the Faith, and was never daunted by Persian hotel; here they walked threats or persecutions, Bravery in detour through the long twilight gardens with fending the Cause was his distinction, their light-blue alabaster vases. They and his thorough study of the teachings looked down across the city. "See, he enabled him to meet the various arguments the Government took over this movement of the opposition with a dominant hotel for the soldiers, water used to power, and to surprise his adversaries flow down this broad decline clear before with sound and convincing proofs. the bottom of the decline," Orilla said. In 1914 and 1935, when

prerequisite

"This is really Fenian, with its sunken raged in Port-Said and Alexandria regards, its flowers, its running waters. myisbd

Abprilla. al Ew

u al ArscmW

~ I and

~ m t & a l ~en

I'm going to Persia. It is the one place zeal and energy that he passed away.

IN MEMORIAM

His loss was deeply regretted by the beloved Guardian.

'ALI SAID-EDDIN!

On February 19, 1947 the Bahá'ís of Egypt were shocked at the irreparable loss of a staunch believer, and a sincere servant of the Cause, 'Ali Said-Eddi.

His knowledge of the Cause went back to the early days of the Báb 'Abdu'l-Bahá, when at the age of sixteen he noticed in one of his school teachers at Beirut certain characteristics and virtues which he greatly admired. When he learned that that teacher was a Bahá'í, it was sufficient to attract him wholeheartedly to the new Faith.
Later he was brought into the presence of 'Abdu'l-Bahá by his teacher, and the moment his eyes fell upon the Holy Abul-Fetouh Battah's Countenance he recognized at once the Divine Resplendency shining from the Beloved Master and became devoted to Him.

Respectively, he accomplished much in Some years later he lived in Palestine behalf of the Bahá'ís by interviewing them where he received the blessings high officials and giving sound statements of the Master. On various occasions statements on the truth of the Bahá'í he served the Cause under circumstances of Faith. As a government employee, he stands which for a long period of his was transferred to Mag-Harnadi, Upper Egypt where life was very hard, as the hatred and persecution in Egypt, where in 1941 he attended to the enmity of the Covenant-breakers were a serious obstacle to civil defense against air raiding.

raids, and made his first lecture on The ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bahá was Universal Peace as ordained by a deep shock to him, but he soon informed Ghahí'u'lláh. Observing the tumult in his country he published in the Guardian. Being a lecture caused, especially among the wholly devoted, he sought the advice of Muslim clergy present, he published an Shoghi Effendi in every undertaking, invitation to them as well as to certain and so In 1931 he proceeded to Egypt to meet eminent persons of the town to hold to settle permanently in Port Said.

a meeting to discuss the Bahá'í Faith. Not only those fellow believers who He was soon transferred, however, to had the privilege of seeing him at the the more remote city of Luxor, and Holy Shrines on every commemoration was warned by his child, the danger and festival occasion, but the entire of the Tribunal, against continuing such Bahá'í community of Egypt did reactivities. In Luxor he resumed his membership how great was his faithfulness activities, delivering the Message to a and how amazing was his love and few souls and supplying one of the devotion.

biggest hotels with Bahá'í literature Although he was ill from 1990 until for its reading library Feeling that his death, he participated in all could serve the Cause better as a free Bahá'í activities, and indeed his sickaged, he retired and settled in Cairo.

He continued his service with great

T H E B A H A ' Í W O R L D

ness seemed to give him greater spiritual power.

His sacrifices are beyond calculation.

"Villa Safwan," bequeathed to him to the National Spiritual Assembly of Egypt, stands as a monument to his generosity, and his gift of land to the Holy Shrines at Carmel ranks him among those whose names and deeds are imperishable.

The following cable was received from the beloved Guardian: "Deeply grieve (the) passing (of the) beloved staunch servant (of the) Faith, 'Mi Effendi Said-Eddin. His exemplary services enriched Bahá'í endowments in both Egypt and the Holy Land.

Advise friends hold memorial gatherings (in memory of) his imperishable services."

On December 13, 1946, the Bahá'ís 'Ali Said-Eddi of Egypt learned with deepest sorrow and grief of the passing of Mirza Muhammad Tauhid Bann, the last survivor of 'Ulamas cursed and accused of heresy.

the age of Bahá'ullah. His loss is He was horrified when he learned of the irreparable, not only to his Master in the East (surnamed "the Wolf" by

Egypt, who had received from him true the Supreme Pen), and Imam Jum'ah fatherly love and kindness, but also he killed the two brothers, Muhammad those innumerable friends in both the East (surnamed the Sultan of East and West who knew him well, Martyrs) and Muhammad Vusayn (highly valued his services, and a person named the Beloved of Martyrs), not appreciated his help on their visits to and because they were Babís, nor because from the Holy Land they are regarded as apostate, but

He grew up in Persia where he first became Imam Jum'ah was indebted to the light of truth shining from them for the Báb and sought to free the horizon of Bahá'ullah. This was himself from debt by this savage and ~ In the early days of His Declaration, a brutal crime.

when the fire of hostility toward the Faith was being lit by its enemies, left for Egypt. During this voyage he who were drawn from among the met many believers in various countries and dignitaries of the East thus learned more of the new Persia. He heard the 'Ulambs (Mbs- Faith. He stopped at 'Akhd, the city lem leaders) addressing the masses of the Prison, where he was welcomed from their pulpits, arousing them and In the friends of the Faith, and where inciting them to rise against the be- the brothers' murder was much disbelievers of the new Faith, to destroy cussed. The first day he had the honor them. and to upmot their movement; of meeting 'bbdu'l-BahC, and the secr and h e witnessed the patience, forgive- ond mornlug he was privileged to n r h s , serenily, uprigl~lrush,nud ahead- make hls flrst visit t o the Holy P r e s fashess of those men whom the erne of BahB'u'HIh, when the Tablets

* the nauoual

Bahal$ 04 Em!, SUE", ".\ Cd revealed in hwor of the two martyrs were being chanted by AqL JAn,

IN MEMORIAM

501

(surnamed the Servant of God). After thirteen days stay he resumed his journey to Egypt. Later, h e made four more trips to the Huly Land: the second one Initiated his career, because on that viait BahB'u'lIBh advised him to settle in Egypt, and his last visit was in 1991,just a year hcforr t h nnr~nsion of the Blessed Beauty.

~

His devotion to 'Abdu'l-Babi, the Center of the Covenant, wna very sincere, and he had the privilege of receiving

His blessings on many visits to the Holy Spot, the last being on February 4, 1919. The historic vislt oE

'AWu'l-Bahl to Egypt in 191h1912 gajned Muhammad Taqi I ~ f i h Q n i fresh mace as he devoted himself to His service as well as to the service of the p~lgrlms.

On Ncwembcr 28, Im, he was deeply shocked by the news 01 the ascension of the Beloved Master, announced by the Greatest Holy Leal by a cablegram.

He proceeded to I3aifa immediately and there he felt that the world had become dwoid of life. On the fortieth day he left Haifa, when the sighs of sorrow and grief of the bereaved, both Muhammad Taqi & M. Effendi. In the field of literature Taqi Effendi

The progress of the Cause in Egypt took a notable part. He knew by heart is associated with the services of almost all the general Tablets of M. Effendi. There were only a few believers when he first he could reach most of the outstanding in Egypt, but through his activities many souls came to embrace the Cause, and many centers were established. He helped to translate into Arabic many books and His house was dedicated to Babel Tablets, such as the Quran and S. M. e activities and many meetings were held. He also worked there. It was honored by the visit of articles demonstrating the truth of the the Beloved Master during His sojourn Cause and promoting its teachings and In Egypt. The principles.

L.M. Getsinger spent their last days on earth in that house, receiving all Years did not dim the brightness of Hospitality and care. His spirit, although they laid upon him His spirit of faithfulness shone with an increasing burden of sorrows and full brightness when the Covenant disasters. The deaths of his sons, folbreakers began their activities and loved by the death of his wife, left THE BAHAI WORLD him alone, but his spirit never faltered commemorate	memorial gatherings to nor felt loneliness, as his true martyr	his high achievements which Concourse

was found in his Beloved Bahh'u'llih.	on High extol, for which I feel deeply
His kindness and hospitality were extended to everybody, and his inner	grateful. . . ."
Qassabchi, who was	Haji Mahmud able services are graven upon the family of	a descendant of a very old hearts of the believers of the East and Faith	Baghdad embraced the Bahai West.
51er o j the	m 1911 through reading The

As a Hand of the Cause of God, West which then publ~shedrewrts of Mmammad Tsqi IsfBhAni served, 'Abdu'l-BahP's travels in Eurupe. His underwent hardships, and passed away addresses, His photographs, and a o w ~ t ha smile of peaoe. Memorial gath- counts of the dcep and widespread erings were held by the believers in interest He created among the various vanous centers, and a suitable resting classes of the Western world. The 1splace is in Mursc of construction in sues of this Bahi'i magazine were the Bahl'i Cemetery. Nothing can presented to him by a certain BahP'i better express the measure of this rich merchant of Yewlsh extraction, the late Life and ~ t sblessed termination than Joseph M d u , who later gave the following cablegram recelvd from Qassabchi, at his request, a mpy of the Beloved Guardian:- the Ktfdb-bAqdas, which served to re-

"Hcarts (R ~ P)e w l stricken (by the) inforce and consummate his faith in the passing (away of) heLoved, outstand- new Revelation. The Master, in a Tab ing, steadfast promoter (of the) Faith. let revealed in his honor in this conhf*armnad Taqi Tqf4hM. Inng record nection, b l e s s 4 him for having attained

(of) his magnificent, exemplary serv- the summit of being and believed in ices (is) imperishable (and) deserves the revealed signs of the secret of exrank (him among the) hands (of the) rstence. From then on he contuuued to Cause (of) God. Advine hold befitting offer to tblrsty s o d s the celestial Water memorial gatherings (by) Egyptian of Life of which he had been eiven centers. (I am sending a] contnbuhon to drink.

(of) two hundred pounds (for the) construetiopl (of a) grave.

Hhji Mahmiid Qassabchi's services to the Cause of God started soon after (Signed) Shoghi." World War I when, by permission of 'Abdu'l-Bahi, he undertook the restoration of the blessed Houae of BahA'u'Idh. Although he had expressed his readmess t o do this important work at his own expense, the Master and a On the morning of September IS, number of believers participated in 1947 the friendx of 'Irdq were deeply contributing to this end.

grieved by the news of the loss of the w e l l - h o r n believer, QQJI Mahmird of InBahB*u'lIih 1925 when the case of the House was being considered

Qassabchi, that faithful, steadfast and and decided u r n by the law courts of devoted Bahi'i who loved and served Baghdad, and the Shi'ih populace the Faith of Baha'u'711& until the last were causing a great agjtation about days of his llfe on earth. the diaputcd case, thus rendering the

The Guardian paid tribute to Aim in situation of the bellevers in Ba&d&d the following telegram to the National very critical, pAji Mahrnird Qassab Spiritual Assembly dated September chi not only stood firm and faithful to 17, 1947: "Deeply grieved loss dearlybeloved, illustrious promoter Faith, the Cause of BahB'u'llhh but encour-

H A j i Mahmud Qassabchi. Fas pre- aged other friends to do Itkcraise. Meancious, historic servlces in 'Iriq, time, he expended freely t o defray the Persia, HoIy Land, unforgettable, ex- fees of the lawyera who were engaged e m. d a r y.. A d v ~ s ecenters hold befitting ta defend the BahP'i case.

-

A few years later, he was privileged

.E;F1 Wr1- .4=-mwof the t0 play the leading part in the purchase

IN MEMORIAM

5W

and establishment of the first

Ha&-atu'lQuds of BaghdM, and when the friends undertook to m t r u c t the present Notional KnzIrabu'tBuds his cantributions were very g e n e r a .

Qassabchi was also among the first believers who participated in na small measure in the erection of the Haziratu'l-Quds of the village of Avashiq, the first of its kind to be built in 'Irhq.

Perhaps the most distinguished and imperishable service he was privileged lo render to the BahiiSIFaith was the construction of the three additional rooms adjoining the Shrine of the B i b on Mount Carmel. These rooms now contain the International Bahb'i Archives. The beloved Guardian, who personally supervised the work, repeatedly extolled this mcritorious service of Haji Mnhmud.

With the approvak of the Guardian,

H4jl Mnhrnid Qassalxhi participated through his contribution, in the purchase of the land which ls to be t h e

H A J I M a h m ~ d Q a s s a b c h i site of Persia's Maariqu'l-Aakkir. A few years before his passing, HQji Mahmfid QassabdLi donated t o the Cause three small. houses a d ~ o i n i n t h e of Bahi'u'llih.

~ House ky ~ f 2

, ~ W ~ ~ ~

to the Holv Land where he took mtf Concerning one of his recent contri- in the funeral of Bahiyyrh ~ h ~ n u m . butions to the Faith, Ruhiyy~hKhhum I n 1933 Qassabchi suffered a severe

writing to a friend ip BagbdAd, stated: attadt of paralysis which he narrowly

"Please inform Mr. Qassabchi when survived and as a result of which he you give him the enclosed receipt that could hardly inove or speak for the the Guardian has decided, in view of rest of his life. On September 11, 1977 his great affrction for h ~ m to , use this Qassabchi, who had already grown &ail loving contribution of his to the Faith and weak, fell ill, and two days later for work en completing t h e superstruc- wlnged his flight iu the Abhi Kingdom. ture of the Bib's blessed Temple, when- He was buried at Salman Pak, about ever circumstances p e r m ~ this t hisboric thirty miles southeast of Baghdid. enterprise to be c o m m e n d . "

In 1931 Qassabchi with the a g groval .of the G~unrdian traveled to Bahbk'llah's native land, where he was very delighted t o meet large numbers of devoted and zealous beUevers in p h r b , K_hurBssh, and other cities and towns. There he lost no chance io eon- Mrs. Bedah Storrs Lewis was born tribute to various Bahi'i enterprises of a well-known Mormon family in and undertahngs. Springville, Utah, on January 21, 1881.

In 1932 QarsabJli had the honor to She died in Los Angeles, California. on visit the beloved Guardian a n d the November 9, 1947. Her life had been a BahA'i Holy Shrmes. Lnter in the year, tree that bore much fruit. As Miss Beuwhile spending the summer in Damas- lah Storrs, she married A l k r t E. cus, Syria, he received the shocking Lewis. They had no physical children, 504 THE BAHAI WORLD but Mrs. L e w ~ shad a spiritual family that was indeed numerous. For Mrs. Lewis was an elcquent speaker, a fluent writer and an octivc Bahh'i teacher. For approximately twentyeight years she had devoted an increasing amount of her time and her unlque capaelties to spreading the "Glad-Tidings" of the ccmlng of BahP'u'llah.

According to her brother, findrcd L. Storrs, Beulah became a follourer of the Bahi'i Faith in CaWornla. Be writes: "As I remember It, Beulah first became a BahB'i in 1919. I became a Bahi" a h o s t instantaneously when I iisst Iearned of it through Beulah. My mother followed soon after that. My father never declared hmslf to be a BahP'i, but talked BahA'i to practically everyone he met. Beulah . . . the Br&ham Youna Univers~ty at attended Prow, Utah, and later studied in England. . . . She had a varied experience in dramatics, and had been in the movies in Hollywood in the silent days.

. . . I do know that she gave up everything, including her ambition in the field of dramatics to serve Bahá'u'lláh."

Beulah Storrs Lewis

Mrs. A. C. Platt relates that, while Beulah was acting in silent movies regarding the teachings of Bahá'u'lláh. After pictures, she met with an accident and the teacher, one of the members of was taken for recuperation to the home of Mother Wright, a Bahá'í and a prominent audience who came to speak to her was Dr. Mayo, of the well-known character actress. But it was at that Brothers of Minnesota. He told her the home of Mrs. Platt that a Bahá'í study class was conducted. Two members who attended the class regularly had been impressed by her efforts to serve humanity spiritually without financial return. He said that he and expressed keen interest in the kidney noticed in her symptoms of a teachings were a little girl and her could ailment, which if treated in time, mother. That girl was Carole Lombard cured. Then she greatly benefited, if not who later became a world-famous actress he added that he too was trying to and a close friend of Beulah health, mankind in the field of physical Lewis. In the spring of 1938, Carole her the and that he would like to offer

Lombard Gable, already a Bahá'í at Clinic facilities of the Mayo Brothers heart, was encouraged by Mrs. Lewis to appear before the Spiritual Assembly without cost. Though his kind and selfish offer was deeply of the Bahá'ís of Los Angeles and to declare her belief. She joined the that she decided she would not accept it. It was also in New York City Bahá'í World Faith and became a member of the Los Angeles community.

an enemy of the Faith came to Mrs. Lewis and offered to establish her

as

Mrs. Lewis was active in civic affairs. In 1930 she was president of the could a minister in a church and her own, saying that from this position she

Cause in Egypt. He was one of the village and settled in Cairo. Ris hardfour heroes of Kawrnu78Sa'iyldih, the ships did not cease, but his spirit conhistoric village in Upper Egypt, w h , tinued to grow stronger.
 At last he wan undeterred by the forces af terror, ap- appointed a teacher by the anistry ol peared before the Muslim Court and Education, and was thus afforded a courageously and unreservedly de- comparatively peaopful life. clared their faith in BahH'u'llHh. Taking into consideration the times, and how As a graduate of the thousanb-year great has been the evolutim in the old Mudim University, al-Azhar, he exthinking of their m t r y m e n in the erted his howledge, s m g t h and skin course of the twenty-five years since in a~slstlNgin translatiny inlo Arabic that first charge was brought against many of the BahB'I Writings. the BahB'is in Egypt, the championship In August, 1949, he visited the.friendu of the Cause which he and his fellow- of Alexandria during his summer holibelievers displayed appear incompara- day. His regular attendance at their bly greater than similar events record- meetings caused mutual delight
 and
 ed later. happiness.
 That championship stands in the an- On the evening of his pasdng be atnals closely assclciated with thefr sac- tended a local symposium of the BtrhB"1 riflces and sufferings and marks the youth d Alexandria. It is said that his

503

THE BANA'f WORLD

joy, happiness and thanldulness to Bahi'u'llih werc so great that he seemed t o feel as if it were the last nrraeion for him to express his deep affection, love and apprcc~atimlto his beloved fellow-believers! dust as he reached his home, he began to suffer heart failurc and w i t h i fifteen minutes h c passed away. % w a s fifty-six years of age.

His body was interred in the Baha'i burial ground in Cairo.

May his soul abide in eternal rest in the Kingdom of AbhP!

(National Spiritual Assembly of Egypt and Sudan) written by Robert GuXck from data supplied by 'Abdu'fiRazzBq 'AbbBs.1

Toward the close of 1949, violent death claimed luki'd-Dfn 'AbbBs, one of the most active and enthusinstlc in many trips, perhaps a dozen, to Baha'is of 'Ir4q. He was born in Auguat Haifa.

1902, the son of 'Abbhs Rid8 MaSbadi A teacher by profession, he spent 'AAbbis who had four years earlier em- most of his life in the employ of the braced the Cause. Mnistq of Educat~onof 'Iriq. TRe in-Nhri'd-Dm w a s one of those blessed spectars knew of his allegiance to

the

F a ~ t hand because of this sent him to souls who thirst after righteousness. distant and uncowedt places in 'Irlq.

Although Bahi'i literature was very This discriminatory treatrncnt enabled scanty durmg the days af his youth, he him bo render unusual services ta the loved to read whatever he could find Faith as a p m e e r settler and teacher.

r h t the Faith. He spared no effort During t h e last seven years of his

ta seek out every manuscript in his earthly existence, h e and his wde eagerness to master the Teachingx. He taught school in Sulaymbniyyih, a town shared his father's perseverance and in 'XrBqi Kurdisthn which will forever devotion to the Cause. Attacks and per- be remembered because of the sojourn secution only served to strengthen his there of BahB'u'IIAh. N9iri'd-Din'Abbfrs cfftorta, end his loyalty and self-sacri- loved the Kwde, and his affection was fice ~.eachedtheir m i t h in the face of recipmated. He performed the hisopposition. toric service of securing the translabon into Kurdish by Mahrnhd Jawdat of Dr.

In his library he kept every available Esslemont's BahaW'Ildh a d the New BahB'i book, including many published Era. Not mdy did he succeed in getting in other parts of the world. His time the volume translated but he also disand money were oonsecrated to Bahi't trihut~dit widely smong the Kurds. He service, his one consuming interest in personally translated into Arabic life. His Iwe for the Cause and for George Townshend's pamphlet about Shoghi Effendi was further expressed Qneen Marie's conversron to the Faith,

IN M E M O R I A M

507 publishing and distributing hundreds of copies and presenting a gmdly supply to the BahB'i library in Baghdid.

He was loved by his students and by all who lmew him intimately.

JULIA CULWER

, 4 ,:.-.v

,

February 8, 1861January 22, 1950

BY S m . r W~nor:

Julia Culver, after forty-seven years of devoted, generous and sacrificial service to the Faith of Bah'u'llah, was released from this world of limitations on January 22, 1950 in East Oakland, California, and passed to broader horizons at the age of eighty-nine.

Born in 1831, Julia Culver spent four years as a child in Germany. When the family returned to the United States, they lived in Chicago. At twenty, Julia returned to Europe. It was in Munich, 1903, sixteen years later, that she first heard of the Bah'í Faith from an American woman who was there at the time. She lived in Europe for five years and did not

Julia Culver

In those days there were few persons in the United States or in Europe who Congress knew about Bah'u'llah, much less recognized Him as the Manifestation of Christ. In those cities. Julia contributed beliefs. Together in Europe for five years and stand in teaching work in in Budapest at the Esperanto conferences held in those large sums of money at that time for our time. Julia, however, was one of those rare souls who followed that the teaching work might forward and throughout the seemed to have been spiritually prepared to recognize the Prophet on Martha Root and other Bah'í years continued to aid activities of learning of His coming. No sooner had she heard of His Message and pursued health of teachers. Early in 1927, the failing what little was available to the Western established the

Mrs. Stannard, who had world at that time of His Teachings, Geneva

Bah'í International Bureau in than she accepted their validity and Guardian, made at the request of the dedicated her life to the promotion of to take

It imperative to find someone

His Cause. Back in the United States Culver, familiar over the burden. Julia in 1904, went to Qreoo Acre, in an 8 Jan-with the Continental peoples

Marne, where Sara Farmer, through choice and languages, seemed the ideal her Green Acre Conferences, was Guardsmeacbn the Glad Tidinas of was heartily approved by the inn.

....

~ a h i ~ ~ ~coming. l i w s mere sh; deep-longer a b e
-e a m g s .

with M ~ m~ a. r d no ened..her knowledge of the Divine Julia Culver, by that October, was beau,

t, assume the expenses of

In about 1s20 JUlta Culver juinerl seeing this in=- raced with the d~ui~v u l forces with Martha Root, that intrepid embryonic, inknation-portant, though

BahB'i teacher who won such a crown takine uoon herof glory by her tireless efforts and reiprmsibility f o r it. She a l center closed. or of self the full

.- .-

T H E B A H A I W O R L D

elccted the latter, and with a conbrk
in the Bahk'i Bureau will increase butron of six English pounds a month

the power and will gather round it from Shoghi Effendi, (later increased there

other movements represented lu nine pounds), Julia Culver supplied less int h e remain~ng und major share of the than it) until (all ob them less complete, formed, less inspired necessary funds to keep the Bureau of its

it becomes, by the sheer force functioning and expanding. ac-

own merit nnd character, the 111 tllr e a i r l y summer of 1928, Emo-Hoagg, a t Julia" suggestion, Internationcame to Geneva to help and together muse will happen.

hmvldgd Center uf nll the congne structive energies of that thgr built the Bureau Library, initiated be s m .

Nothing can stop it. May it a bulletin and arranged lectures, teas s and

How great a privilege is y o u and other activtbes dcsigned to make

and

Mrs. Hoagg's to be so bravely the Bureau n meeting ground for all this successfully upholding there persons and groups who were w r k i n g difficult great Cause through these for peace and the betterment of the times. . . ."

world. Many notable persons visited the Nor was the development of the
 In-
 Bureau in those years and attended its International Bureau the only service that functions. Among those who had a w open- Julia Culver offered her beloved Faith.
 ly voiced their sympathy with and ap- It was she who arranged for the appreciation of the Bahá'í Faith and her French translation of Dr. Esslemont's claimed it as perhaps the greatest force Bahá'u'lákih and the New Era, and she In the world for the unification of man- who shared her own limited resources kind, was the late Eduard Bená, then to help any and all who were in need.
 Minister of Foreign Affairs for her d ~ a r y discloses but a few of the Czechoslovakia. host of deeds and contributions which Under the direction of Julia Culver, flowed from her loving, generous heart the International Bureau thus cooper- and purse: a hundred dollars to help ated with all organizations in Geneva educate a Persian youth: eighty dollars that were striving towards goals siml- to aid someone else; a check to a mother to those of the Bahá'ís, maintained her whose daughter had suffered the contact with the activities of the Faith amputation of a leg; cheeks to Bahá'í throughout the world and did all in her teachers in Europe whose means were power to make it an a w r l l ~ a r y nerve too limited--everywhere the helping center to Raifa, as the Guardian wished hand. ed, in all that pertained to the Faith. Small wonder that George Townshend
 This was no small task, but with the wrote at this period (July 1930) : "The
 a ~ do of Bahá'í travelers from all parts bugles of heaven are blowing strains o i the world, both the Bureau and the of thankfulness for your faithful, number of Swiss believers steadily staunch and determined efforts to grew. o b q the Center of the Covenant
 and
 One of those Bahá'í travelers to visit keep the Geneva Bureau go^.
 Listen
 Geneva in those days, was the eminent to the bugles and do not mind
 the George Townshend, Canon of St. Paul's . amongst mortals. . . My thoughts and prayers will be with you and your rick's Cathedral in Dublin and Archdeacon of Clonfert (actions she has re-brave, lonely and invaluable work for recently renounced to devote his entire God and His Cause." time to the teaching of the Bahá'í In January 1831, on the eve of her Faith). On his return to Ireland in October of his twentieth birthday, her physical tober 1829, Dr. Townshend wrote to Julia Culver strength failing, Julia Culver wrote to lia Culver: Shoghi Effendi asking permission to re-

"Geneva is to me a haven of spirit to turn to the United States. His answer was an echo of Haifa. I came hoping she might go home.
E.H.~V.

have seen Geneva and felt there a gene Hoagg was to return to Geneva spiritual power I had not felt else- to replace her. In June, Julia wrote to where. I hope that more and more her to say that she was putting aside funds to maintain the Bureau until the following May. But due to unforeseen circumstances Emogene Hoagg was not able to leave for Europe, and the next spring found Julia Culver still in Geneva, still hoping to be relieved and, at that time, planning to arrive in Geyserville, California, in good season for the Bahá'í Summer School sessions there. In August, she was "hoping to go in September." But it was May 1933 before it was possible for Julia Culver to take a leave for California.
IN MEMORIAM

Even then she could not be idle. After a short rest she was busy once more promoting the Teachings of the Cause abroad as well. In California she spread the Divine Message in various cities and in Chemeketa Park was planning to open a children's school. But failing health and finances frustrated her purpose and she was at last forced to sell her property and live quietly with her sister in Berkeley until it became necessary to place her in a rest home in East Oakland where she passed away.

Mountfort Mills

Julia Culver, in her forty-seven years of Bahá'í service, gave of her substance Before the end of 1909, Mountfort

until, she had no more to give, either Mills had made pilgrimages to physically or materially. Surely as she 'Akhd. His third pilgrimage to visit the entered the Abhá Kingdom she was Mastet was made early in 1921. In 1922, greeted by "the bugles of heaven. . . . with Mr. Roy C. Wilhem, he was invited by Shoghi Effendi to go to Haifa blowing strains of the "Faithful, staunch and determined ef- for conference with the Guardian on "Faithful, staunch and determined ef- for conference with the Guardian on "Faithful, staunch and determined ef- matters related to the new conditions

On receiving news of her passing, the Guardian cabled this message: created for the Faith by the Ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bah.

"Griwe passing devoted pioneer (of)

Dur~ng the Master's viaits in New

F a ~ t h ,Jdia Culver. Her exemplary York during 1912, Mr. Mills served on the Bahh'i reception committee which spirit, unshakable loyalty, generous contributions unforgettable. Fervent- s r r a n g d public addresses for 'Abdu'lly praying (for) progress (of) her

Bahh in that city.

soul (in) Abha Kingdom."

First chairman of the National Spirit-

- us1 AssembIp of the BahH'fs of the U n i t ed States and Canada when formed in 1932 in accordmce with the pmvisiom of the Will, and Testament left by the

NOUNTFOXT MXIA

Master, Mountfort M ~ 11 swas elected a

Bn HathcE m m e m b r of that body for seven terms between 1922 and 1937. A8 trustee of

The pa~singof MOunkb*

On Bahh'i Temple Unity hehad served an-April 24, 194% d e ~ r i dthe American nually fmm its inception in 1905.

Bahh'i commun~tynf thp influence and mefinal draft of the hplnmXinn

of

experience of a very distinguished be-

Trust and &-Laws a d o u t 4 by the

Na-

Liever. He had been a foUower of l ~ 19G was p r e p a d tional ~ s s e & b in BahP'u'IIHh since 1908.

by Mills.

510

T H E B A H A . f W O R L D

It would be impossible in brief space

He was a member of the committee to report his activities for thc New York which appeared before the Wilm&te

BahB'I community throughout the years

W l a g e Board to apply for a building of his r e s i d ~ n wthere, for the national pcrrnlt for the Hause of Worship, e t a Bahi'I community, o r in E w p e . He time when the Bahi'is owned land and was a wlnning public speaker and hts possessed Mr. Bourgeois' design

but

permafib gained many influential from a worldly point of view seemed friends for the Faith m some of its most incagable of carrylng mlt nn imprssive difficult days in the West. His devotion and costly sacrifice to the Master was impressive. Characteristic of his influence upon

A few outstanding events will serve people was his discussion with the late to indicate the unusual scope of his Professor Edward Browne of Cambridge University, translator of

A

At the Conference of Living Religions in the West: the Episode of the British Empire, held in London, the Bible, the Persian text of which had been presented to Professor Browne by the public platform. 'Abdu'l-Bahá at the time of his famous

visit to Bahá'u'lláh. After hearing Mr.

His appeal of the case of the House of the Faith from the Bible to Bahá'u'lláh, League of Nations, whose verdict was and its subsequent stages under the favorable to the Faith is , historic. The Center of the Covenant and the terms case is documented in earlier volumes of His Testament, Professor Browne of this biblical record. Mills made two realized that he had been veiled by the journeys to Baghdad while studying the prominent claims facts pertaining to the Bahá'í rights to and disturbances which followed the possession of a sacred Bahá'í shrine. He expressed his desire to translate later Bahá'í mission, acting on behalf of the works, but died before this Guardian, Mountfort Mills had audited to the Faith could be made.

ences with the late King Feisal of Iraq, Mills brought into the Bahá'í community a trained mind, a gracious presence would carry out the terms of the sentence, a rare quality of friendly relationship rendered by the League, an intention and a keen awareness of the King's untimely death made need of our home for the inspiration and it impossible for him to fulfill. Mystery-guidance of a new Revelation.

ously attacked while in Baghdad, Mr. "As already intimated," the Guardi-

Mills suffered a brutal assault the of- an wrote on October 18, 1827, "I have facts of which lingered for many years. read and *read most carefully the

Mountfort Mills prepared the Resolutions final draft of the By-Laws drawn up by the National Spiritual Assembly for presentation to President and Bahá'u'lláh, Mountfort Mills, and Roosevelt with an engrossed copy of the Tablet revealed by Bahá'u'lláh for to this first and very

the heads of the Republics throughout at codifying the principles of general

America and a copy of the Master's Prayer for America. This document was reproduced in The Bahad' World in 1917, and was reprinted in the time. In Geneva, Switzerland, Mills spent time during session 8 of the League of Nations, serving as an official observer and interested friend and Faith of its principles, and exerted a good influence among many of its leaders on behalf of the Bahi'i principles and ideals.

Baha'i administration."

In his letter dated March 20, announced by the League of Nations, the Guardian said: "I must not fail in much time during session 8 of the League of Nations, serving as an official observer and interested friend and Faith of its principles, and exerted a good influence among many of its leaders on behalf of the Bahi'i principles and ideals.

Success already achieved. The text of

IN MEMORIAM

511

Bah'i petition, which was conceived and drafted, has been recognized by the members of the Mandate Commission as 'a document well drafted, clear in its arguments and moderate in tone.' He has truly acquitted himself in this most sacred task with exemplary distinction and proved himself worthy of so noble a mission. I request you, " (addressing the American Bahi'in) "to join me in my prayers for him, that the Spirit of Bah'u'llah may continue to guide and sustain him in the final settlement of this most mighty issue."

GEORGE ORR LATIMER

BY HOWACE

H-

I

The Centenary of the Declaration of Independence in North America; notable All-American Convention. Reprinted representatives chosen by the Latin American communities assembled with the delegates elected for the United States and Canada, and a Latin-American co-chairman was appointed to serve with the Convention chairman

I

George Orr Latimer

during the sessions. He served with the Convention chairman daily evidencing the working of an indomitable spirit of faith. Here

was

George Orr Latimer as chairman of the National Spiritual Assembly conference no statement of belief in a past and future revelation, providing slumber for souls vened the Convention and continued to be too fearful to confront reality, but a preside when elected Convention chairman by the delegates. c m a d e undertaken by staunch and vigilant personalities who had to build

Perhaps in each active life there is their own path of progress from day one episode which seems to stand out to day through the wilderness of
the
as a culmination, a climax, in which work.

all the person's capacity and experience. His life-span coincided with the unwritten are given their supreme fulfillment - unprecedented impetus which Abdu'l-Ment. If that is so, many American Bahá'í gave to the concept of religion.

Bahá'ís will associate George Orr Latimer with the Centenary Convention in relation had been revealed truth, gentle law, glorious hope and sublime

1044, when the Latin American teaching sacrifice, but never in any previous work had become firmly established, dispensation had religion been commenced when a local Assembly had been formed locally, socialized In terms of civilization in every State and Province of North America attuned to a valid manifestation of

the

America, and when the completed expression of the divine Will. This mighty transformation of the House of Faith - the fountain of religion from universal truth to Worship made possible a floodlighted community was the providential mission-

Temple which impressed every observer with a sense of exalted beauty. and conveying the powers flowing from the aims
the aims
server with a sense of exalted beauty. and conveying the powers flowing from

Mr. Latimer was born into and grew up with a family of pioneer Bahá'ís. Bahá'u'lláh to mankind. 'Abdu'l-Bahá Inspired In the understanding and prac-

His spiritual environment from youth practice of religion its final dimension in

$12 THE BAHÁ'Í WORLD

human relationships and the relation- application of truths which could not ships of social institutions created for be previously applied in the East; as an ordered world. assistance to the work of establishment

We did not know what was 'Abdu'l-Bahá Bahá'í community in America, first was done in those years, but those who joined Bahá'í Temple Unity, later as National Spiritual Assembly; aid in the Covenant and following in His road work of the construction of the Bah2i were partir~patinein the very miracle Hnunp of Wo~*shlp:trav01 to distant of human experience. Of these was lands to teach the Behb'i principles and

George Orr Latimer, from his youth to to strengthen the bonds of fellowship hrs sudden and unexpected death in uniting the believers of all lands; pil-

June, 1948. grimage to 'Akknand Haifa for associs-Latimer li d deeply in the Baha'i tion with 'Abdu'l-Bahi and prayer at community on many levels: as teacher, the Shrines consecrakl to the Herald lecturer, author and administrator. His and the Author of the Bahi'i Reveladevotion expressed itself an work for tion; initiation of orderly development the BahL'i schools, in writing pam- of Bahb'I properties held in trust as phlets and magazine articles, In the de- national endowments; personal servvelopment of local and nat~onalBahi'i ices a t the schools founded m Eliot, inst~twtions,in extensive travel among Maine and Geyserville, California; concvmmunities In Amerxca and Eumpo, tribution of lpgnl k n o w l ~ d f tv i ~ the imand In the legal work of the Cause. He portant task of incorwrahng fifty or died while a member of the National more lmal BahB'i cornmunitles in the Spiritual Assembly, entering tus four- United States and Cnnada." tccnth year of service In that capacity Through the Guardian's tribute we s ~ n c e 1922. can perceive the greut and lasling mon-

"Greatly deplore gassing of distin- ument which George Orr Latimer's acquished disciple of 'Abdu'l-Bahk, firm complishments have raised up in the pillar of the American BahSi wmmu- Baha'i community. nily, George Latimer. His outstanding services in the closing years of the Hierolc and first stages of the Formative Ages of the Faith are imperishable," the Guardfandclared in his cablegram to the Nat~onalAsscmbly received June On the morning of February 4, 1947, 23, 1948. Mani Mehta, son of a leading indus-

From a brief memorial prepared for trialist of Bombay, was driving home, the Portland Assembly, this summary t~redand sleepy, when his car crashed is quoted:- into a lamp post. H e was taken to a

"His frmncss in the Covenant estab hospital, but m spite of the best medillshed with the BahB'is of all t h e world cal care, he died two days later withby Bahi'u'llfth in the Person of 'Abdu'l- out having regained consciousness.

Bahh, joined with that of the other M ~ N Mehta first beard accidentally members of that company (dearly be- of the Bahb'i Faith but he was immelievers), constituted the axis around diately attracted to i t and delved into which revolved the spiritual opening of a study of its teachings with intensity the Wczt to the new Mcscs3ogc of the and zeal. In 11942 he formnlly a c r e p w oneness of God and the oneness of man- the Faith. Propelled by boundless de- GinA votion, he launched with all the fervor

"Hence In our n v l d appreciation of of his sMll and the warmth of his heart the value of George Latimer's faith and into carrying t o others the Glad-Tidwork, we gratefully recaU these salient ings he had received. His enthusiasm events: development of n l o c a l Bahh'i was unrestrsined. He would h a w the community from the dms of the first whole world knuw of the Truth and share with him the Priceless P t a r l he pioneer teachers to the days of a world- had obtained. Disregardmg position, wide BahL't religious socieb: cavacitv to apprehend lthe social meanin; and r B , m h a r s haa.P M . ~a.

IN MEMORIAM 513

wealth and even safety--which tradi- any preliminary ado plunge into a talk tional and vested interests m his corn- oi the Cause and give the Message. On munity, apprehendmg the menace to onc occasion, five people were traveltheir strnngnhd implied in hic cham- log b a raaway car; m e , v n h m to pionship of the Cause, were bound to the others, was a BahL'i. As they threaten-he arose to demonstrate the passed a fadory which had been r e truth o i the Cause with remarkable cntly acquired by Mr. Mehta's father, vigor. the talk turned to t h c family and the Hc felt that the principles of the capacity of the sons to carry on the Farth had but to be p r e s c n w to an vast Merests of the father. Mani came audrence for its members to achowl- In ior his share of their comments. "He dge and accept their truth. Under such is all right, y w h o w , but he is so an impression, he organized a public crazy. All his talk 1s about BahP'i". lecture at Bombay where he invited Mr. d. S. Harper, who met Mr. Mehta his former corellg~on~sts, the Zoroas on his Kashmir trip and participated trims, to prove to them the validity of with him in h ~ teaching s nctivitier; m the claim of Bahi'u'IIBh t o be the that trip, writes irr his report: "Many Prumise of a11 Ages. The meeting brokc English Bahb'is wrll know the great up in confusion £or the majorlty of the N r . Mehta of Bombay, and of his fine audience had come, not to listen, but to direct approach in teaching the Cause. I found him at my hotel after a few days, having a room for a holiday from Bombay. It was no holiday premeditated plan of assault on his person though for Mani, for he had come solely by the baser elements of the community to set Srinagar, the capital of Kashmir who constituted a section of the mir, on 'fire' with the word Baha'i. I crowd. was quickly to learn of his ambitious and far-reaching plan and to learn to organized opposition which Mani Mehta my great surprise that I was to be a had thereafter to face, a spiritless part of it. . . .

stout would have quailed, but his did "We visited all sorts of people whom not falter. His own relatives opposed I never knew existed, and from the him; those within his immediate circle Prime Minister down; and we talked of acquaintances called him bigoted; Baha'i in cafes, in tongas and in the those without thought him demented. street. We sought platforms at several But he went straight on in his path, schools and I helped to address the swerving neither to left nor right. His girls at a convent and the boys at a attachment to the Cause was well - Protestant school. . . . We demonstrated during this period. The distributed five thousand leaflets and storms of trials that beat against him, advertising a public meeting. I had to failed to subdue him. They tended but keep away from this, being subject to to fan into a fierce blaze of love for military law, but the high light of this the new Faith. Shortly after his experience was the Press Conference - *officially, he received a copy of The at the largest hotel in Srinagar. All Promised Day to Come by our Guard- press delegates were present and also an. A study of its contents read his several leading businessmen and enthusiasms to fever pitch. He was in- schoolmasters. Mr. Mr. Rtn introduced instrumental in bringing out an edition the meeting after tea and then called in Bombay. He presented copies to the upon me to outline the principles of eminent men in the country and re- the Cause, which I did in a talk lasting received testimonies from a few as to forty minutes. The meeting was F;U+ the greatness of the Baha'i Faith. successful from the start and I would say Mani Mehta's passion for speech to that 'tolerance' was the keynote of its all, without exception, and that is the success."

As well known. To the general across In spite of the handicap under the bicycle or the coachman whose car- which, due to his very position in life.

As a gentleman he has hired, he would without he had to labor, he was always more - getie in service to the Faith. In fact, the exuberance of feeling he had on the matter often led him to complain and he himself was not averse to making the Cause in this country, and to suggest diverse ways and means for the capture of the attention of the masses.

Mani Mehta went to Europe and the Middle East during 1945 and he visited the friends in London, Manchester, Beirut, Telhrn, Baghdjd and Egypt. He was keenly disappointed that he could not meet our beloved Guardian. He was on the local Assembly of Bombay as well as on the National Spiritual Assembly for two years, and was vice-chairman of both these Assemblies at the time of his passing.

He was humble, and of a forgiving disposition. He loved the truth and held to it tenaciously. He was frank and simple. He was affable towards his subordinates. "We shall all be terribly cut up if our master passes away," sobbed his chauffeur when Mani Mehta was lying unconscious in the hospital. "He never treated us who served him as inferiors. Sometimes he used to get angry with me and disclose to me what was in his mind, and sometimes the other way about. At such times, he would listen with patience and forbearance and never reply in a manner as to remind me that I was his subordinate."

MEIN Mehta

A few passages from the press obituaries, was awarded the H.B.E. in 1945.

Obituary notices throw further light on his manners character. and abstemious in habits, Mr. Mani

"The death of Mr. Mani H. Mehta, Mehta had a genial disposition and was eldest son of Sir Homi Mehta, the well-known industrialist, this morning following

Bombay

lowing injuries sustained in a motor accident on Tuesday removed a prominent figure from Bombay's business world and a daughter, was twenty-two years

"Quiet and unassuming in Mehta had a genial disposition and charitably inclined."

Mr. Mehta", writes the Sanhwa, "who leaves behind him a widow and a daughter, was tively young, being only circles," writes The Evening News of India. It adds, "Mr. Mehta, after his death, was well-known in Bahi'l circles of Bombay and other parts of India, joined his father's business. For the active interest he took in the movement. He was a partner in Messrs. H. M. Mehta and Co., and was a director of the MU Stores Trading (In. of India) unpretentious and sonally, as a friendly, Ltd., and several other companies. He humble man. In spite of the fact that he was harnessed to multifarious business activities of his father, he always remained a dreamy idealist, with an unworldly look about him." was also associated with the war effort and was Honorary Secretary of the Gift Fund, and in recognition of his services in the untimely and tragic death, as a result of a motor accident, MAULVI KUISAMMAD 'ABDULLAH VAKILI of Mr. Mani H. Mehta," writes The Blitz on February 5, 1947. "Although blessed with wealth, Mani was one of those few men of his class who felt in pain for the suffering of the common people and worked towards their emancipation in many different fields . . . material things, he devoted the last years of his life to teaching the Faith with a zeal that neither age nor infirmities could diminish. Self-convictions in his life and work. A sincere, his patience and competent organizer, convincing orator, severance were chiefly responsible for the formation and consolidation of several Assemblies and groups

in

splritua! world, Bombay will take long Rashmir.

to forget Mani Mehta." Despite the respect he mmmmanded

And finally this warm trlbutte from in his community by virtue of h i s the pen o l a l i b r a r y figure in the lolowledge arra sinceA*, his letters

Rust Rahbat of February 9: to the National Spiritual Assembly

"Me- holds back the d m r and breathed a spirit d humility which was

I see your thin eager form oonsumed truly Bahl'i, and m a man of his age by a m~ghtyfaith, courting persecution and position, worthy of remark.

and championIng a cause by which, Maulvi 'Abdu'llih VaM was indcfatiin a worldly sense, you had nothing gable in his labors for the Cause even to gain and c v e r y t h i y to lcsc. . .

You hved your convictions. No man .unto the last. His writings were constantly ,directed towards guiding his can do more. Your faith was w i l e d dormer co-rel~gionists,the

QhdIyPnfs, to as the stuff that dreams are made of, the truth. Among his published pambut yuu ware the stuff that martyrs plilets, lhe t e a l krlowrl ia Ille Maqbariyare made of. So to your home m the i-KbAnfyar.

falling daylight. . . . Maulvi 'Abdu'llbl~VakII was taken ill

"Your fine intelligence, your deep on the evening d the 9th of April, 1948 capacity for hiendship, your warm a[- and on the morning of the 12th he fiction and your social position, could passed away. The Guardian was inhave ensured for you a 11fC on velvet. formed of his passing and he replied

But ten years ago a great faith entered by cable: *Grieve pnssing notable proyour ltf. Then you could only perceive moter Faith Maulvi Vakil.

Ardently

the heavens brightened and the mund praying progress his soul. Urge K a

~ h -

of a mshmg rn~ghty breath of fresh rnir friends persevere meritarious a a that hUe$ all the world. Thence- labors."

forth life was f o r you no stage play As there was no Gulistan in S h g a r , but a hard campaign. . . . You gave Maulvi Muhammad 'Abdu'llbh Vakil u p all, sacrificed all, for what you was buried with BahB'i rites in his own

believed to be a new civilisatirm of grounds at Srinagar. The friend5 a t world-wide b r o t h e r h d of justice andSrinagar, and spedally Chaudhri love," 'Abdu'l Rahman, are ra be thanked for

Mr. Mani Mehta attended the Na- the stea8fast stand that they took on tional Spiritual Assembly meeting a t this matter and their reasoning which Poona on the 26th of January, 1997. Icd the late Maulvi's wife arid son to

He presided at a public meeting in the agrec to such a burial.

Bombay BahB'i Hall on the 2nd of It speaks of the popularity oI our late

February when an editor of a local brother that in spite of his being an Urdu paper spoke on the Cause. These avowed Baha'i, a group of the Lahore were h ~ slast official acts for the Cause

'BY lirs Netlwal Spddtual Assambw or iha he loved so deeply and served so well. Bnhl'il cb I d l a . W l s t e n a M Burma.

516

THE BAHAI WORLD

Ahmadlygrihs, the QAdiygnis of Srinagar leaves a gap which it will be hard to and other Muslims as well as Hindus frll. HIS Ilfe will inspire other attended the burial ceremony. This in this country bo emulate hls exampl:

BahC'is

gave the BahB'is an opportunity to and serve the Cause with the same speak on the oneness of religion and traits of selflessness, ardor and steadthe MessaRe of the Bah4'i F a ~ t h , fastness that Maulvi 'Abdu'llih

Yakn

MaulvI 'Abdu'llAh Vakil's passing m conspicuously displayed.

— In Memoriam (Used by permission of the curator)